FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Legislative Appropriation Bill—The Special Tax Bill Passed by the House—Amendment to the Bill Concerning Rights of Naturalized Citizens.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 26, 1868.

SENATE.

The CHAIR submitted a communication from the General of the Army, transmitting the papers in relation to the election in Arkansas, which was laid on the table; also, the report of the Commissioners for the revision and consolidation of the statute laws of the United States, enclosing specimens of their labors. Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. DRAKE presented petitions against the ratification of the Osage treaty. Referred.

Mr. YATES introduced a bill for the more economical administration of the government in the territories. Referred.

Mr. HARLAN introduced a bill granting the right of way through certain public lands to the Central Pacific Railroad. Referred.

The bill to amend the act for the removal of certain bands of Sioux and Dacotah Indians was passed.

The bill to establish the right of way for Portage Lake and Lake Superior Ship Canal, and to provide for the extension and completion of the same, was amended and passed.

Mr. CONNESS offered an amendment to the bill concerning the rights of American citizens abroad, with which the third section will read: "And be it further enacted, That whenever it shall be duly made known to the President that any citizen of the United States has been arrested and is detained by any foreign government in contravention of the intent and purpose of this act, upon the allegation that naturalization in the United States does not operate to dissolve his allegiance to his native sovereign, or if any citizen shall have been arrested and detained whose release upon demand shall have been unreasonably delayed or refused, it shall be the duty of the President forthwith to report to Congress, if in session, all the circumstances of any such arrest and detention and any proceeding for the release of the citizen so arrested and detained, that Congress may take prompt action to secure to every such citizen of the United States his just rights; but if Congress be not in session, then the President shall be and hereby is empowered to suspend in part or in whole commercial relations with said government, and in case no other remedy is available, to order the arrest and detain in custody any citizen of such government who may be found within the jurisdiction of the United States, and who has not declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, except embassadors and other public ministers and their domestics or domestic servants, and the President shall without delay give information to Congress of any proceedings under this act."

The order of the day, the Legislative Appropriation Bill, was again taken up.

Several minor amendments were agreed to.

One appropriating $15,000 for ten thousand copies of Paschal's annotated Constitution was rejected—21 to 13.

Mr. WILLIAMS offered an amendment abolishing the Bureau of Statistics and transferring its duties to the Special Commissioner of Internal Revenue, providing the Secretary of the Treasury designates a clerk at the same salary as a head of a division, to act as deputy for said business, under the direction of the Special Commissioner. Agreed to.

The bill having passed in Committee of the Whole, the question was on the adoption of the amendments by the Senate.

Mr. STEWART moved to add the Commissioner of the General Land office to the parties whose salaries are increased to $4,500, which was agreed to—26 against 9.

On motion of Mr. HARLAN, the Commissioner of Pensions was included in the increase by a vote of 21 against 19.

An increase to the Commissioner of Indian affairs was rejected—20 against 20.

Amendments increasing the salary of Assistant Secretaries of the Interior and Treasury were ruled out of order.

The amendments as amended were then agreed to—24 against 13.

The bill finally passed.

After a short executive session, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Paine was excused from acting on the Committee to attend the National Shooting Festival, and Mr. Washburne, Wisconsin, appointed in his place.

Mr. PAINE introduced a bill providing for the issue of arms for the use of the militia. Referred.

Mr. SCHOFIELD offered a resolution directing the Clerk of the House to present to the Secretary of State the act admitting North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama and Florida. Adopted.

Mr. HIND, of Arkansas, introduced a joint resolution to extend the provisions of the act of July 4th, 1866, limiting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims to loyal citizens of Arkansas. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

A bill was passed increasing to fifty dollars a month the pension of the widow of General Hackleman.

Also, a joint resolution directing the publication of statements of National Banks in process of litigation.

Mr. CLARK, of Kansas, presented resolutions of a mass meeting of settlers on Cherokee neutral lands, calling on Congress to protect them in their rights.

The Senate joint resolution donating captured ordinance for a monument to Gen. Sedgwick, was passed.

Mr. BOLES, of Arkansas, introduced a bill for the relief of honorably discharged soldiers. Referred.

The House went into Committee on the Tax bill.

Mr. PIKE'S amendment of last night was ruled out of order.

Some amendments to the tobacco section having been reserved last night, several others were offered thereto, but the only one adopted was one by Mr. WASHBURNE, of Massachusetts, to increase the duty on imported cigars from $2 to $2,50 per pound.

Mr. HOLMAN offered an amendment to the bank sections, to tax interest on United States bonds to 16¾ per cent., which was ruled out of order.

Section 108, for the taxation of banks and bankers, having been read, Mr. POMEROY moved to strike it out.

During the discussion

Mr. SCHENCK said the section was the same as had been acted on by the Committee of the Whole on the last general tax bill, and that it was reported in this bill simply under the order of the House. He, however, deemed it right to say that the pending bill, as compared with the general bill, would cause a deficiency of seventeen million of dollars.

Mr. HOLMAN moved his amendment and it was rejected.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Massachusetts, moved to strike out the clause taxing Government deposits three per cent. per annum. Rejected. The tax on bank circulation was reduced to one per cent.

Finally, however, the whole section was struck out—66 to 53, leaving the tax on bonds under the operation of the present law.

Mr. BUTLER moved an amendment as a new section for taxation on deposits, circulation and interest on U. S. bonds, which was ruled out of order.

The Committee rose and reported the bill to the House.

Mr. SCHENCK moved the previous question, which was seconded.

All the amendments were agreed to without division down to section 108, and the yeas and nays being ordered thereon, the amendment striking it out was rejected—57 to 71.

So the section remains as in the printed bill, unaffected by the subsequent amendments.

Section 109 was restored to the bill.

The bill passed without a division.

During the day Mr. Butler, of Tennessee, had the oath administered to him by the Speaker.

Adjourned.

THE CAPITAL.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 26, 1868.

MILITARY GAZETTE.

Maj. Whittlesly, U. S. A., has been detailed as Professor of Military Science at Cornell University, Ithica, New York.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Three months leave of absence has been granted Second Lieut. Loyall Farragut, U. S. A., who joins the squadron of his father in Europe.

CUSTOMS.

The receipts of customs for the week ending the 20th were $2,431,304.

MINISTER TO PARAGUAY.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has agreed to report favorably on the nomination of Gen. McMahon as Minister to Paraguay.

VIRGINIA AFFAIRS.

Gens. Grant and Stoneman had an interview with Secretary Schofield to-day relative to affairs in Virginia.

LEAVE ON A TOUR.

Generals Grant and Dent leave on Monday on a Western tour.

ELECTED DELEGATES.

The Conservative soldiers and sailors last night elected delegates to the New York Convention and passed resolutions in favor of the nomination of Hancock.

SENATE AND THE TAX BILL.

The Senate Finance Committee are already at work on the tax bill and will probably make many amendments, though they will not unlikely alter the tax on whisky as fixed by the House.

TARIFF BILL.

It seems probable the Ways and Means Committee will yet report a tariff bill covering some articles in the schedule.

TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT.

The bill introduced in the Senate by Mr. Yates provides that the Territorial Legislatures shall meet but once in every two years, and the next session of said Legislatures shall begin two years from the date of the last session. The bill also fixes the salaries of Territorial Governors at $2,500 per annum.

A MUNICIPAL ROW.

At the trial of Major Richards before the Police Commissioner, this evening, on charges preferred by the Conservative Councilmen, a dispute arose between Mayor Bowen and Ex-Mayor Wallach. The former accused the latter of falsehood, whereupon Wallach struck Bowen a heavy blow in the mouth. He was immediately arrested and held to bail to answer a charge of assault and battery.

TOPICS AND GOSSIP AT THE CAPITAL.

Messrs. Johnston and James, Commissioners for the revision and consolidation of the statutes of the United States, have completed a report, which was submitted to the Senate yesterday. They submit as a specimen of their work their revision of the laws relating to patents and copyrights, the army and public printing. The Commissioners say their labors were first directed to the investigation of the plans adopted by other nations for the codification of their laws. They then arrauged, so far practicable, the scattered statutes under their appropriate titles. In the progress of their work, they report that they have found it necessary to write new statutes on all subjects, which they have undertaken and in progress. The work is necessary to show that it will not be possible to complete it within the limits prescribed by the act authorizing the commission.

The Senate adopted as an amendment to the legislative appropriation bill a clause prohibiting the exhibition of statues and pictures in the rotunda of the Capitol.

A movement is on foot among the Democratic politicians opposed to the nomination of a man of the Pendleton or Hendricks stripe to urge Gen. Schofield as a suitable candidate to be brought before the New York Convention.

There is a very strong movement on foot here to secure the confirmation of Perry Fuller as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The Senate wing of the Capitol is crowded with the trained lobyists, beseeching Senators to vote for his confirmation, and the indications are that some headway has been made, not sufficient, however, to lead to the belief that he can be confirmed.

Petitions continue to flow in from Pennsylvania, asking Congress to take some action on the tariff question at this session. It will be impossible to do so, though it is thought there is an earnest endeavor to finish the tax bill by next Monday in the House, so as to let the Senate pass it by the Fourth of July.

General Grant has received dispatches from General McDowell which indicate that Mississippi has been carried by the Republicans, and that the Constitution is ratified. This news is very gratifying to the Radicals, who did not expect to win the day in Jeff. Davis' State.

Mr. Smythe will be rejected for the Austrian Mission by a very heavy vote.

It is reported that the President has nominated General Rosecrans for Minister to Mexico. He will be confirmed.

Senator Norton is shortly to wed a wealthy, accomplished and beautiful Baltimore belle.

—Rev Dr. Duffield died yesterday afternoon, at Detroit, aged 74. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

FROM EUROPE.

Continued Debate on the Irish Church Question in the English House of Lords—General Amnesty in Spain—The Assassination in Servia.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 26.—Prince Alfred has arrived in England, and is now at Windsor.

LONDON, June 27.—2 o'clock a. m.—In the House of Lords the debate on the Suspensory Bill was continued. An immense crowd was present on the floor and in the galleries, and great excitement was manifested.

Lord Clarendon regretted that this question was made a party measure. Ireland never had gained anything in the battle field of party politics. He criticised the Irish policy of the late Derby Ministry, and said he distrusted the policy of the present Cabinet. He thought it was safer for the Church to make terms with its avowed opponents than trust no professed friend. If the Church of England fell into a minority, his affection for it would remain; but his conscience would not support it as an established Church. He was in favor of disestablishing the Irish Church, but he would not disendow it. He concluded with the declaration that he should vote for the Suspensory bill. [Great cheering from the Whig benches.]

Lord Redesdale said this bill was a sacrilege, and the Queen's sanction of it ought to be barred by the coronation oath.

Lord Marlborough said the bill was only an effort of the Liberals to gain office at any cost.

Lords Dufferan and Romilly spoke in support of the bill, and the Archbishops of York and Armogy in opposition.

The Marquis of Salisbury said the bill should have been made to exclude future holders of benifices from compensation. As this was not done, he thought the object of its framers was to commit the Lords to some ulterior design. This was no plan of disendowment; but the framers threatened that if it were not passed, worse would follow. If a worse one could be framed they would have done it. He conceived of nothing worse than abolition. The inquiry should be made as to the right of spoliation. If envy and dislike were the reason for it, it would not stop at corporate property. He thought the Fenians would regard it as a sop to the slave. The land and not the Church was their object, and the real badge of conquest of the Lords became an echo of the Commons. They had better not be Lords at all. He wished to yield to the opinion of the people; but if they acted prudently, firmly and independently, they would probably interpret the wish of the people better than the Commone have done.

The debate was then adjourned.

The Reform bill for Ireland was read for the first time in the Lords, and adjournment took place.

SERVIA.

BELGRADE, June 26.—The late Prince Michael left a will appointing his sister and two nephews his heirs. The evidence elicited at the preliminary examination of the assassins of Prince Michael implicates Prince Kara Georgwich in the conspiracy.

CHICAGO.

Meeting of Ticket and Passenger Agents — Whisky Manufactured in Cook County.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 26.—A meeting of general ticket and passenger agents, representing twenty-two Western railways, was held in this city to-day, to take action on the recent demand of the Eastern Trunk lines for a pro rata division of through passenger receipts regardless of local rates. A committee of eight was appointed to prepare a reply, and the meeting adjourned to wait the action of the committee.

Twenty-three distilleries in this county during the five months ending June 1st manufactured over eight thousand barrels of highwines, on which they paid a tax of over six hundred thousand dollars.

Margaret Tucker, of Newport, Lake county, Illinois, died yesterday from the effect of burns received the day before by the upsetting of a kerosene lamp.

J. M. McKinney and J. S. Barr were run over by a freight train near Bonaparte, Iowa, on the Valley Road, last night. The former was killed and the latter will probbly die.

The Southern Illinois Educational Convention, in session at Carbondale, ceased its labors to-day. About three hundred teachers and school officers have been in attendance, representing at least thirty counties.

The Mississippi Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

JACKSON, June 27.—A colored Democratic club from Brandon, numbering three hundred, is here to encourage colored Democrats to-morrow. A torch light procession two miles in length paraded to-night. The Democrats claim 2,500 majority in the State. Ten counties give Democratic majorities of 500 to 2,000 each. The Republicans have gained four of the river counties. The Democrats allow them all the river counties, ten in number, but none of the inland counties.

Arrest of Postoffice Clerks.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, June 26.—A number of clerks in the Postoffice at Cleveland were arrested yesterday, charged with stealing letters. An examination will be had on Wednesday.

ST. LOUIS.

Gen. Sherman's Views as to the Indians—A Son of Kit Carson Adopted.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 26.—Gen. Sherman is reported to have said in a conversation yesterday that there is nothing to be apprehended from the Indians on the plains; that they are quiet and peaceable, and that more murders are committed in any large city than by the Indians. The General has adopted a son of late Kit Carson, and will send him to the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, to be educated.

Gen. E. B. Brown, member for Missouri of the National Committee of Soldiers and Sailors Constitutional Union, Col. Broadhead, and other prominent members of the Missouri delegation to the Democratic National Convention, left for New York to-day.

International Convention Young Men's Christian Association.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DETROIT, June 26.—At the morning session of the International Convention a great number of resolutions on a great number of subjects were introduced and referred to appropriate Committees.

The subject of lay preaching was taken up. The discussion was opened by Major Lloyd, of Cincinnati, and continued at considerable length by Mr. Reynolds, of Peoria, Illinois, Judge Culver, of Illinois, Mr. Dougall, of Montreal, Mr. Patterson, of Chicago, Mr. Gallagher, of Brooklyn, Gen. Howard, Mr. Walker, of Vermont, and many others.

Between sessions the friends of Sunday Schools met and decided, after a lengthy debate, that the International Convention delegates consider Sunday School interests and that it ought to become a continental institution. A committee was appointed to report a plan for such to-morrow.

On re-assembling the President announced the death of Dr. Duffield. Hymn, prayer, appropriate remarks, and a committee of three appointed to convey to the family assurance of the sympathy of the Convention.

Resolutions were adopted continuing the present Executive Committee another year, appointing the second Sabbath in November for special prayer by Associations, and appointing W. E. Dodge, Jr., New York, delegate to European Associations and Dublin Conference Y. M. C. A.

The Convention discussed "What service in a direct line of Christian action has most tended to develope and foster associations in small towns, villages and country districts?" Without coming to a decision thereon the Convention adopted a resolution heartily endorsing lay preaching, not because it considers laymen better preachers than clergymen, but because preaching to the whole world is too large a work for ministers alone and too important to be left undone, and recommending that Associations appoint for the work as many of their members as is thought necessary and competent.

At the evening session resolutions were adopted expressive of the feelings of the Convention at the death of Dr. Duffield.

The question, "What is the relative position of prayer, holy living and systematic personal effort as elements of success in association work?" was debated the entire evening.

The proceedings were very interesting throughout and the attendance large.

New York City Matters.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Sulzerberger, another of the whisky conspirators, was sentenced to pay $5,000 fine and to ten days imprisonment.

James W. Winter was sentenced to thirteen months in the Penitentiary and $3,000 fine for forging checks on the Sub-Treasury. Several other parties were sentenced to various terms of imprisonment for defrauding the United States by false certificates.

It is reported that Gov. Seymour is to be President of the National Democratic Convention.

General O'Neill caused the arrest to-day of the Editors of the Irish Republic, for publishing a statement from Washington that General O'Neill had been suspended from holding communication with the War and Treasury Departments, for presenting fraudulent claims. The hearing of the case is set for July 12th.

THE grasshopper plague is devastating Western Iowa in a fearful manner. A friend who has just come in from Sioux City informs us that for a space of about one hundred and fifty miles wide, extending from southwestern Dakota—chiefly between the Des Doines and Missouri rivers—to the southern boundary of Iowa, there will be scarcely a wheat field left exempt from total destruction by these vermin. They fill the air and cover the ground, making a constant sound like that of a heavy shower. They sometimes gather over night in such myriads upon the track of the railroad, as to stop the train by lubricating the track when crushed by the wheels. They devour wheat first, and afterwards take to oats and weeds, leaving grass and other crops comparatively unharmed.—Chicago Post.

A SOUTHERN Impartial Suffrage Club has just been formed in New York for the professed purpose of upholding, in the impending Presidential election, the justice, wisdom and necessity of the policy of impartial suffrage and equality before the law, applied by Congress as the fundamental condition of Southern reconstruction. The members of the organization are Southern men, born in the South, formerly slave owners, many of whom served in the Confederate armies.

—The first locomotive on the Lake Superior and Mississippi Railroad was dedicated on Thursday at St. Paul, Minnesota, with imposing ceremonies, and amid a large concourse of people. The tracks are laid for four miles, and the work is being pushed on with vigor. The road is expected to be finished to the head of Lake Superior in two years.

—Mr. William Faxton, the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, has written a letter to a Hartford paper, in relation to the alleged fraudulent sale of the iron-clads Catawba and Oneota, that after a vain endeavor to get bona fide bids on the vessels, they were finally purchased at their appraised value.

—Several meetings of workingmen were held in New York on Thursday. The clothing cutters are preparing to demand twenty-four dollars per week instead of twenty dollars which they now receive, and the piano munufacturers propose to assist the bricklayers in their strike.

—Following the conviction of Mrs. Victore, in Cleveland, for the murder of Wm. Parquet, the Connecticut Life Insurance Company has commenced suit for the recovery of money paid as insurance on Parquet's life, and attached all the property known to be his.

EDUCATIONAL.

Commencement Exercises of the Second Ward Public School—An Interesting Occasion—Leave Taking With the Principal and Presentations.

The Public School of the Second ward has long enjoyed enviable reputation, and has been justly regarded equal to many of the best private Colleges and Academies in the Commonwealth. The ward is not a populous one, being largely taken up with business houses and manufactories, so that the class rooms are not overcrowded with pupils, there being an average attendance quite inside the capacities of the school. The annual commencemeni exercises are marked with a degree of proficiency and learning which renders them highly attractive and inviting to the friends of education in the city as well as to the parents and immediate patrons of the school. It was not singular therefore that on the occasion of the commencement yesterday a large and highly intelligent and appreciative audience assembled in the main school room to participate in the exercises. The boys and girls of the various departments were handsomely attired for the occasion, presenting as bright and charming an array of happy, youthful, pretty faces as we have ever seen together. The exercises commenced with a few pertinent introductory remarks by Prof. McCrum, the Principal, after which the pretty and inspiriting vocalization of "Hail this happy day" was rendered in pleasing and faultless style by the scholars, who, under the direction of Prof M'Cabe, have made admirable progress in that popular branch of common school education. Miss Maggie Wilson read a poetical selection in clear and pretty style, and was followed by Master J. S. Arnold in a spicy and humorous declamation, in which he acquitted himself with much credit. Miss Mary Cunningham, a sprightly, intelligent pupil, read a fragment of poetry in very good manner. Miss Julia De Lange next read a difficult and intricate poetical gem and displayed unusual powers of elocution, giving full and fine effect to every line and sentence. Master George Cunningham read a prose selection with animation and acquitted himself nobly. We believe we have mentioned all of the scholars who participated in the programme, which was here and there interspersed with choice musical offerings by the entire school. At the conclusion of the exercises Prof. Macrum delivered his farewell address to the pupils, announcing that his termination with the school followed the day, his resignation, that he might enter into a new sphere of life, having been accepted by the Board of Directors. He expressed himself as deeply pained to part with the lady associates of the school who had contributed so much towards its success and the careful and thorough training of the scholars. It was a sad task to bid a final adieu to the many radiant faces about him, and the good hearted Principal well nigh broke down in his farewell address to those for and among whom he has so faithfully and zealously labored during the past few years. Many there were more than the scholars and lady teachers who felt the tears forcing themselves adown their cheeks at the parting of a dearly loved Principal with his pupils.

When he had taken his seat, Master Theodore Black, in a well-chosen little speech on behalf of the scholars of the boys' primary department, and their teachers, Miss Jennie Allen and Miss Hattie Lewis, presented him with a beautiful full set of elegant French china. Then little Miss Lizzie Carnahan, in the prettiest and neatest manner imaginable, presented him, on behalf of the girls' room in charge of Miss Anna Curry, with magnificently framed twin portraits, by Marshall, of George and Martha Washington. Next came a beautiful rosewood writing desk from the girls' primary department of Misses McNeal and Marshall. Then Miss Katie Samson rose and in a pretty way addressed Mr. McCrum and on behalf of the scholars of Miss Thompson's intermediate department, presented him with an elaborate landscape oil painting. On behalf of the first class, Miss Kate Porter, in a voice moved with feeling and emotion, and in a few well selected words, presented an elegantly framed cabinet sized photographic group of the portraits of the members of that class. Then followed in this unexpected shower of beautiful presents several costly volumes from the lady teachers, and the recipient was overwhelmed in his endeavors to respond to all the kindly addresses directed to him. He succeeded, however, admirably, under the circumstances, in expressing his deep gratitude to the generous donors. By invitation, the following gentlemen briefly addressed the scholars: Professor Gourley, Professor Douthett, Professor Patterson, of Lawrenceville, Professor Crane of the Western University, Prof. Still, of the Second ward, Allegheny, Prof. Curry, Normal Institute, Prof. Andrews, of Robinson township, Dr. Biddle Arthurs, John Wilson, Esq., and James Black, Esq. These gentlemen all took occasion to pay tribute to the worth of the retiring Principal and the high character of the Second Ward School as a place of popular education.

In retiring from his position Prof. McCrum carries with him the best wishes of the entire educational community as well as the earnest prayers for his welfare by the scholars he is leaving.

Closing of the Fourth Ward Public Schools—Interesting Occasion.

The closing of the Fourth Ward Public Schools, Allegheny, yesterday, was a very interesting and pleasant affair. The time had been looked forward to with great delight by all, and when it arrived it was made the occasion of a general jollification. In the first precinct the scholars gathered in full force about ten o'clock in the morning, and feeling for once freed from the restraint of school discipline, rejoicing in the prospect of a happy vacation and aided by a plentiful supply of everything in the way of refreshments they passed an hour or so in the enjoyment of the pleasures of social intercourse.

In the second precinct a number of the pupils, wishing to express their gratitude to one who had long and faithfully led them up the rugged hill of science, gathered in the school room shortly before noon and made their principal, Mr. W. A. Johnson (who, we understand, is soon to join the ranks of the Benedicts) the recipient of a handsome set of china ware.

Mr. Johnson was taken completely by surprise by this proof of the esteem in which he was held by the scholars, but replied, thanking them for the beautiful testimonial of their regard, which he would hereafter highly prize as a remembrance of the donors and the occasion.

At the conclusion of the presentation, the teachers, pupils and directors of the school, by invitation of the Principal, sat down to a bountiful repast, spread out in an adjoining room. After doing ample justice to this part of the entertainment, hand shakings and good byes were exchanged, and the company dispersed with pleasant memories of the day's experience.

Western University.

The commencement exercises of Western University of Pennsylvania was held last evening in University Hall, corner of Ross and Diamond streets.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. W. B. Howard.

Joel L. Bigham delivered the Latin Salutatory, and also an English oration—subject "Necessity of a Protective Tariff.

The Master's orations were delivered by William James Sawyer—subject, "Then and Now," and John Russell Wightman—subject, "Jacta Est Alea."

Rev. Dr. Woods, in addition to conferring the degree of A. B. on the graduating class, conferred the following degrees:

D.D., Rev. Joseph Stockbridge, Chaplain U. S. A., and Rev. George Tracey, Missionary to India.

A. M., James W. Murray, George J. Sawyer and John Russell Wightman.

The exercises closed with prayer by Rev. S. F. Scovell, of the First Presbyterian Church.

Birmingham Public Schools.

The Birmingham Public Schools, Mr. Jones, principal, closed yesterday after a very prosperous term, with interesting exercises. Music and speeches formed a prominent part of the closing scenes, and teacher and pupil took leave of each other with mingled gladness and sorrow, gladness in being for a time liberated from the routine of school life, and sorrow at severing the ties of friendship which had hitherto bound them closely together.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Some years ago the property owners on Stockton avenue took hold of the South Commons with the intention of improving them. Grass has been sown, trees have been planted and have grown, and a cheap temporary fence has been put up, as we all know. These Common grounds are beginning to look green and pleasant, and now, because alterations are to be made in a church facing on Stockton avenue, the fence is displaced, the trees exposed, the grass ruined and a portion of the little would-be park converted into a rubbish ground. I should like to know by what authority anybody thus destroys the work of years and makes an eye sore of public property? If such things are to be allowed here, of course they must be on all parts of the Commons, and the proposed expenditure for the improvement of these grounds should be stopped, as it would certainly be useless if any vandal that chooses can destroy when he pleases. It may be that in the proposed general improvement of the Commons, Stockton avenue is to be widened as to include this rubbish ground, and if so, of course no harm is done, but I should like to know if it not why the liberty has been taken.

Reminiscences of a Police Magistrate.

THE FELLOW CLERKS.

A large and fashionable jewelry store had been invaded and pillaged by burglars. The discovery of the fact in the early morning was the signal, as is so usual in like cases, for a general gathering of neighbors, friends and fellow tradesmen to learn the nature and extent of the misfortune, and to proffer the expression of sympathy. In this instance there was another class of visitors drawn thither by quite a different motive. The merchant had before that "met with losses" of the character incident to traffic, and had creditors whose fears impelled them to the exercise of a close vigil upon his business circumstances. This misfortune summoned them with alacrity. The loss of a large portion of his most valuable goods quickly impressed them with the apprehension that the misfortune, great as it was to him, would ultimately fall with its severest blow upon them. The sympathy that under other circumstances might have been extended to the luckless merchant by his creditors was thereby tinctured with that sentiment of chagrin that springs from the realization of losses that uncharitable selfishness supposes might have been varied.

The lust of creditors added to the efforts of police espionage to which it gave animus and activity, was speedily busy in seeking to obtain some clue to the apparent mystery that surrounded the burglary. During all the progress of the investigation the suspicious eye of the creditors was directed to the unfortunate merchant, and all their opinions and suggestions were jaundiced by the belief that the crime of theft was his act, and that the apparent fact of burglary was but the means that he had devised to wrong them.

The investigation showed quite clearly that the burglary had been perpetrated by some person attached to the store. There were certain evidences, perhaps slight and intangible to those not skilled in the intricacies of crime, that addressed themselves with positiveness of conviction to the judgment of the police officers that the work could have been none other than that of a person who could only, by employment or intimacy, have obtained a knowledge of all the facts that should lead to so successful and peculiar a result.

When at any time during the progress of the investigation suspicion failed to find in the conduct of the merchant a ground upon which to reliantly anchor itself, it was by a natural direction, easily turned towards the employés. From the one to the other of these that suspicion was directed, till at length it was concentrated upon two of the clerks with that measure of judgment that gave the assurance of their guilt. The method of the perpetration, the character of the property taken, and all the circumstances surrounding the case, showed clearly enough, at least to the apprehension of official judgment, that one or both of these clerks and none other could have committed the crime.

It became manifest in the progress of the inquiry that these persons apprehended that the finger of suspicion was directed towards them, and that justice was seeking in their condemnation the development of guilt. Still the pursuers were baffled by the uncertainty as to whether both the parties were guilty, and that if but one was thus guilty, which it was. As the sequel showed, this uncertainty and the effort to solve it impressed itself upon the belief of one of the parties, and that he acted upon such belief with the best skill that he could summon.

At a time and in a manner suggested by an anonymous note addressed to a police officer, a search was made of the premises within the boarding house occupied by one of the clerks. There within a bed, seemingly hidden from the severest espionage, were found some of the articles of stolen jewelry, of little bulk, but of great value. Other circumstances, if any were needed, aided to augment that conviction of his guilt which this discovery forced upon the judgment with such startling energy.

The accused denied his guilt and all knowledge of the crime. He was seemingly overwhelmed by the accusation, and by the developments that resulted from the search of his room. Had there been those who asserted a doubt of his guilt from the vehemency of his declarations, they would quickly have been subdued into silence by the suggestion that the very extravagance of his amazement furnished the highest evidence of the completeness of his dismay. And when his utter inability to account for the possession of the articles found was confessed, all cavil was hused, and all hypotheses of doubt were brushed away. The merchant was vindicated in his character, the busy tongue of scandal was silenced, the police officers had reached the goal of their efforts and received the public plaudits awarded to their success; another crime had been brought to discovery, and the victim was pinioned upon the rack of judicial retribution.

Cast off, as thus he was from the sympathy of the world, with every tie of friendship sundered that might have linked him to the hope of succor, with no influences of family or wealth to summon those agencies to his relief that so often "turn away the currents" of justice, weak, defenceless, and crushed by the proofs of his guilt, his case awaited but the coming of the appointed time to result in his legal condemnation, and the addition of his name to that fearful record of youth, that, by the temptation of lucre, have wrecked their lives upon the shoals of crime.

But in all the poverty of his condition, and the terror of his peril, he yet possessed one friend. That friend was of far greater wealth to him in the tirelessness of labor, the sleeplessness of vigil, the fertility of resource, the warmth of sympathy, the earnestness of zeal, and the sanctity of devotion, than would have been an hundred others. it was his sister.

Through all the vicissitudes of the case, in every peril and amid the darkest hour of the storm, she stood by and clung to him with a tenacity of love and a fidelity of zeal that no opprobrium could shake nor fear appall. Nor did she thus devote her efforts solely from the spur of consanguinity. She believed him to be innocent. And whether that belief possessed a rational foundation or not, it inspired her with that Heaven-born devotion that only woman, in the purity of her own heart and the sincerity of her own purposes, is capable of bestowing.

The time of trial was fast approaching. When it came it would be brief. The facts were few and simple, the evidence was direct and conclusive, the deduction from it followed surely on to conviction of guilt, and the prison door was opening to receive its inmate, and shut out the world from one more soul lost to it in the perdition of crime.

In vain had the sister attempted to impress any others with even the glimmer of that belief of her brother's innocence, whose perfect fullness had awakened her to such untiring efforts in his behalf. Amid the overshadowing cloud of proof they gave to her appeals only the valueless recognition of sympathy for her misguided zeal. But just upon the eve of the impending trial she extorted from the reluctant magistrate the promise of a small measure of aid. Afar off in the distance of doubt and darkness, she directed his vision to a gleam of light that fitfully glimmered like an ignis fatuus in the night. To her it seemed a glowing phantasy that needed but to be watched with the eye of faith and hope till it should shine forth in the fullness of perfect light. Charity rather than faith responded to her appeal. The favor of the aid she sought was granted. The issue of the first effort made startled the magistrate from the listlessness into which he had fallen. To him it seemed like an hallucination into which his fancy beguiled his judgment. But the more intently he looked at this new and startling feature of the case, the more vividly did his reason invest it with the attributes of probability. Efforts were made to seek farther light upon this sudden discovery, and to those efforts the tireless champion of the accused contributed all her ingenuity and zeal. Step by step was the progress made in their pursuit. Atom was added to atom of the proof that was unfolded. "Trifles light as air" were seized upon to furnish, if possible, any clue that should be of measurable weight. Reason, skill, industry and strategy were all invoked to aid the purpose. Finally, the end came. The efforts culminated in success. That small faint, glimmer of light, "no larger than a man's hand" upon the broad horizon of speculation, first seen by the watchful sister of the accused, and to which she directed the vision of others, had now risen to the zenith of the firmament, and thence shone forth with the brightness of a noonday sun to shed a flood of light upon the case, and to illuminate the pathway of the prisoner from the dungeon of shame to a world of freedom and re-established innocence.

All attempts had hitherto failed to support by any circumstance of proof the asseveration of the accused that he was wholly ignorant of the presence of the stolen articles within his bed, or to show how by any other agency than his own they could have been placed there. It seemed that if he was innocent, the person most likely to be possessed of any information upon the subject was the domestic female servant of the household. But though she had never been examined as a witness in the case, she had at all times when spoken to upon the subject declared that she knew nothing of it. Her assumed ignorance, coupled with the declarations of all others of the household, had seemed to shut the door against all hope of acquiring any knowledge upon this most vital point. But the vigil eye and the keen scented scrutiny of the prisoner's sister had ceaselessly been directed to the subject till at length her watchfulness was rewarded with the recompense of success. She became assured in her convictions that the servant knew much more of the matter than she had thus far disclosed, and that her knowledge possessed the very highest value to the prisoner.

It would perhaps be tiresome in the narrative to recite by what processes and from what sources was first obtained the belief of the domestic's knowledge in the matter. That belief, based at first upon that shadowy evidence that would only have addressed itself to such a busy imagination as possessed the sister of the accused, was speedily to be supported by such irrefragible proof that none could deny its force.

The effort made to obtain that proof was successful. A note was addressed to the servant, but without signature; inviting her to meet the writer of it at a designated place in the public street. A covert allusion was made in the note to the subject of a promised reward for her secresy in the matter of the hidden stolen property. The stratagem succeeded in its purpose. She visited the place at the appointed time, though there was none to meet her there, and though no eye saw her but that of a wary police officer.

The success of this effort left but one more, though the most important thing, to be done; that was to extort from her the confession as to who it was that had placed the stolen property within the prisoner's room, and of which knowledge she had by some means become possessed. The effort to consummate this result was equally successful.

Upon the next morning the servant was startled from her busy household labors by the summons of a police officer. He desired her speedy presence in her sleeping chamber. Thither they went, her anxious inquiry to learn the motive of this sudden irruption failing to receive an answer till her presence there should have developed the the fitting occasion. Then the purpose of the official visit was made known. She denied all knowledge of the matter of the stolen property. The officer demanded the key of her trunk. That depository was quickly opened. And within it was found hidden some articles of jewelry that the officer triumphantly declared to be part of those stolen upon the night of the burglary from the store! Had the sagacity of the servant not been blunted by the amazement and affright of the scene, she might have conjectured that the speed and precision with which the officer directed his discovery of the articles could only have been accounted for upon the hypothesis that he had thus placed them there where he could quickly find them. But no such thought even flitted across the imagination of the servant.

Quickly upon the production of the alleged stolen articles, and before even an exclamation of wonder or ignorance conld be uttered the officer followed up his advantage by making known his connection with the appointment and visit of the evening before.

The bolt thus driven by the pursuing avenger, and directed by sagacious boldness, struck its object with its fullest force. The girl, environed by what, in her thoughtless affright, seemed to be overwhelming proofs of guilt, and startled into the confession of the truth by her fears, avowed her readiness to disclose what she knew.

Her story was brief, pregnant, though it was with mighty consequences to him who was awaiting the issue in prison, and to that other who superadded to the crime of burglary the greater infamy of having tried to shield his own guilt behind the punishment of an innocent fellow.

The stolen jewelry had been secreted within the bed by the fellow clerk of the prisoner. He had been prompted to this deed of wrong when he saw the gathering storm threatening his destruction. Gaining easy access to the house, he had been observed in passing out by the servant. He had purchased her silence till now, at the last act of the drama, that silence had been broken, and by it innocence had been freed from the toils of calumny and danger, and guilt been summoned to the bar of avenging justice.

—Mr. Lowenheim, of Nashville, Tenn., dealer in feathers, &c., went out last week, accompanied by a young man named Hughes, on a peddling expedition. One night they camped in Lincoln county and were attacked by a band of robbers, who demanded their money. They refused and were hung up by the neck until they changed their minds. The hanging was repeated several times before they gave up all they had. Thev have returned to Nashville and yet bear marks of their barbarous treatment.

FOR SALE--REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE.

300 ACRES OF WHITE PINE AND HEMLOCK TIMBER LAND, situated on Black Lick Creek, Buffington township, Indiana county, Pa., 9 miles from Nineveh Station, on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and about 60 acres of cleared land, under good fencing. On the premises are erected one Grist Mill, with 2 run of burrs and 2 run of stones, all complete and in good running order. One Saw Mill, in complete order, cutting 3,000 feet per day.

One dwelling house, two stories high, with 12 rooms, 40x42 feet.

One dwelling,	28x40 feet,	8 rooms.
One "	18x26 "	2	"
One "	18x26 "	4	"
One "	18x26 "	2	"
One "	24x26 "	5	"

One Stable, 20x24 feet, 16 feet high; Blacksmith Shop and other outbuildings. This land is underlaid with stone coal and iron ore, and it has plenty of never-failing springs of water, besides the creek running through the entire premises, and will be sold cheap and on easy terms, to a good man with a little money.

10 LOTS ON BEDFORD AVENUE, each lot 20 by 100 feet, on which is erected four two-story frame dwelling houses, of 6 rooms and hall each. These lots embrace a full square of ground, fronting 200 feet on Bedford avenue, and bounded on each end by a wide street, with an 18 feet alley in the rear. On the premises is a pump of lasting and excellent water, and the surface of the lots is level and needs neither filling nor grading to prepare them for building purposes, and being in a section of the city where property is increasing very rapidly in value, make them desirable for an investment, especially as the present houses rent for enough to pay a good interest on the sum asked for the whole property. Call soon on the undersigned and secure a cheap, safe and paying investment.

Also, A FARM OF 160 ACRES of good land, situated in East Wheatfield township, Indiana Co., Pa., 90 acres of which is cleared land, in good cultivation, 30 acres being in excellent meadow. The improvements are a two-story frame dwelling house of 4 rooms, a frame bank barn, 36x60 feet, with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings, all in good repair. It is in a good neighborhood, convenient to schools, churches, stores, &c., and will be sold very low for cash or approved securities.

Also, a RIVER BOTTOM FARM of 76 acres, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 130 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 159 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Hollivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon-shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on good terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, June 26.—River falling, and 5 feet 4 inches water in the Canal. Weather clear and warm.

ST. LOUIS, June 26.—Weather clear and warm.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant three feet in the channel by the Monongahela mark last evening. The weather yesterday was cloudy and hot with strong indications at times of rain.

As the water is again getting low, the wharf begins to present a dull and neglected appearance, and we do not look for any material improvement until towards fall.

The Messenger arrived from St. Louis yesterday about noon; she experienced considerable trouble in getting over some of the "bad places" between here and Beaver.

The Charmer departed for St. Louis about 1 o'clock yesterday with all she could take on the water; she left here drawing three feet.

The Silver Cloud, which left here on Thursday for Cincinnati, passed down on the left of Brunot, and, we understand, that she went through without sticking. There is more water on the left than there is on the right, though the channel is not so wide.

The Glasgow arrived and departed for Parkersburgh, and the Rbbt. Moore departed for Portsmouth. These boats, also, had about all they could take on the water.

The Leonidas is laid up at McKee's Rocks, and the America was somewhere be tween here and Deadman at last accounts.

The Judge before whom Captain Donaldson had a hearing at St. Louis, for the alleged shooting of a negro on his boat, the Great Republic, refused to accept bail, and he was therefore committed to prison.

—We clip the following from the St. Lonis Democrat, of Thursday says: The problem of the mountain trade of 1868 has been pretty clearly solved. Thirty-four steamers left this port up to May 17th, carrying freight at unprecedented low rates, and eleven left for Forts Buford, Rice and Stevenson up to June 20th, with government freights, also at what were considered ruinous rates. Several boats are making their second voyage hence to points above named, and several were loaded a second time at ports on the Missouri for Stevnson and Benton. The idea appeared to be generally entertained that the upper Missouri would be extremely low this year, causing boats so much trouble and delay that their owners would be ruined, or suffer great losses. All such fears have been dispelled. With but few exceptions, the boats arrived at Benton with ordinary if not unusual dispatch, and rapid return trips were the rule. Cargoes have been delivered at their river destinations with dispatch and good order, always excepting those of the Carrie, Arabian, Princess, Bridgeport and Amelia Poe, which steamers were lost on the upward trip. Each boat carried from 125 to 270 tons. Very few passengers availed themselves of the steamers, some having only three or four through passengers on leaving this port, and a few had twenty or thirty, and one, the Octavia, left St. Louis with 75, and a prospect of adding 50 at points above. The mountain boats were drawing generally from 33 to 48 inches of water, with everything on board.

—We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Thursday: A Quakeress wanted to go to St. Louis, The Anna and Wananita were announced for that port. Stepping into the cabin of the former boat, she observed that the bar was closed up, on one side a placard caught her eye, bearing these words; "Games for money prohibited." Mr. Trasher being in the office, she accosted him; "Is this a temperance boat?" "I presume it may be called so, madam. The captain doesn't drink, and I don't drink." "This is the boat for me, then. I see you have no bar, and don't allow gambling." She started up street after her baggage, but did not return. It is supposed that she must have seen a roustabout take a drink as she was leaving the boat, and secured passage afterward on the Wananita.....Edward Daggett, mate of the Rob Roy, was stabbed twice in the back, on Tuesday night, by a desperate character, named Swaney, who was at one time a "contractor" for loading and discharging steamboats.

—Mr. T. L. Jones, a citizen of Natchez, an ingenious mechanic, has succeeded in obtaining a patent for an invention which converts the ordinary high-pressure Western steamer into a low-pressure. The same boilers engines and connections of the high-pressure boats can be used, and the steam escapement is the same as heretofore, but with the addition of an extra or independent valve, controlled by atmosphere pressure alone, and the additon of a condensing apparatus, all at a cost not exceeding $1,200 to $1,500.

—A St. Louis paper says: The apprehension that the mountain trade this season will entail great loss on steamboat owners in consequence of low water and lower freights, seem to be dispelled. The average profits of these boats for a single trip are estimated at twelve to fifteen thousand dollars.

—The J. N. McCullough was aground at Deadman all day yesterday, and was still sticking at last accounts although hopes are entertained, that she can be worked off after being relieved of all her freight.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 140¼@140¼.

WE gladly publish in another column a tribute to the memory of the late estimable and lamented Mrs. General ROBINSON, by one who knew her long and knew her well, and whose every word is from the heart.

THE Internal Tax Bill was expected to be put upon its passage through the House yesterday or to-day, its discussion having occupied about five working days, with sessions protracted to a late hour each evening. It is to be hoped that the Senate will emulate the other body in its promptitude and fidelity of action upon this measure.

THE many friends of Capt. W. B. DONALDSON, of the steamboat "Great Republic," will be pained to learn the particulars of the unfortunate affair in which he is made figure so conspicuously at St. Louis. If guilty, some undeveloped cause for the deed will probably be advanced to palliate the crime.

BLACK MEN were voters in Tennessee from the first organization of the State up to 1853, when a new Constitution was adopted which had the effect to exclude from the suffrage all persons of mixed blood from octoroon down. The earlier Constitution was adopted in 1796 from that of North Carolina, where, also, there was then no discrimination on account of color.

THE ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the University of Wooster, (O.) to take place on Tuesday next, will afford another encouraging mark of the progress which the people of that wealthy and powerful State are making in the direction of knowledge. The new University is already handsomely endowed, and, with the further efforts now current for the same object, will be prepared, with the completion of its buildings, to offer to students very liberal educational facilities.

INVESTIGATION has, it is said, developed the fact that there is no absolute need for further legislation in aid of the proposition to consolidate the public debt in new bonds at a lower rate of interest. Existing laws already concede all the requisite power to the Secretary, for inaugurating such a measure, but it seems that he hesitates to exercise it, desiring to throw all the responsibility upon Congress, under a bill or joint resolution which should strip him of his discretion and imperatively require him to proceed.

LATER returns from the Mississippi election are favorable to a Republican triumph in the ratification of the Constitution, and the choice of State officers under it. Last year's registration showed 47,434 white, and 62,091 black votes, and the vote calling the Convention stood 63,739 for it, and 6,277 against it. The doubts as to a Republican victory at this time have arisen from the assiduity with which the Democracy labored to secure a part of the colored vote. The local journals of that party have been filled with reports of "colored Democratic meetings" addressed by "colored Democratic" speakers and with appeals and exhortations to the "colored" voters to support the Democratic ticket. The little game did not probably win.

EX-GOV. HORATIO SEYMOUR doubtless exerts a greater power in the Democratic politics of New York than any other member of the party. The difficulties of the situation, which just now embarrass the party in making a solution of interesting National questions, have elicited, two evenings since, a public address from the Governor, before a Democratic association in the great metropolis. In discussing the principles to be enunciated by the Convention, he indirectly but none the less significantly referred to some of the various candidates for the nomination. A prediction, which was telegraphed the preceding day to the Cincinnati Enquirer, that "his speech would be aimed against Mr. PENDLETON'S financial plan and for the purpose of breaking his political back," was amply verified in the positions taken by the Governor. He reiterated with emphasis the views which led him, in his Albany speech last autumn, to oppose the Pendleton plan. Going still further, he pronounced for the permanence of things as they are, opposing equally any expansion by the unwise issue of more greenbacks, and the contraction of the present volume of the currency, embarrassing public and private interests. This is the policy which our Republican Congress has inaugurated, and its effective and cordial endorsement by Mr. SEYMOUR was quite unexpected. He also approved the suggestion that new bonds be issued at a lower rate, as having the effect "to reduce taxation and bring our currency to the value of specie." It is to be hoped that the concurrence of a Democratic leader so distinguished will have a decided influence in bringing Democratic members of Congress to support the new measure to that end which has been suggested by leading Republicans. He expressed himself in favor of a general Southern amnesty, but his only reference to the Chase policy of universal suffrage, was to exhort the Democracy to be "outspoken and confront all perplexing questions." This was politic and cautious but significant. He could not have given wiser advice to his friends. Taken in connection with the recent expositions of facts and arguments in the New York World, on the question of colored suffrage at the South, his remarks on that point exhibited a perfect harmony of opinion with the utterances of that journal, confirming the prevalent impression that it has faithfully represented his views.

GOV. SEYMOUR'S address was prefaced, decorated and concluded with the amount of misrepresentation and partizan demagoguery usually found in Democratic speeches, and which even the distinguished orators of that party are compelled to adopt as the only medium through which they can make seasonable counsel or admonitions heard by their followers. But, under cover of all this clap-trap and humbug, he has managed to deal a savagely effective blow at the greenback-nonsense of PENDLETON, and the obtuse folly of the fellows who are still clamorous for "a white man's government. The precise extent of the influence which this speech will have with the party at large, the next fortnight will disclose.

THE services of Mr. JOHNSON to the Democratic party, although not acknowledged by them as gratefully as a sense of mere justice should prompt, are nevertheless fully comprehended by impartial observers. The New York Times, for example, declares that the President "has done more, by far, to keep alive the Democratic faith and to present Democratic doctrines clearly to the people, than any statesman of that party, or than all of them put together. He has sustained their views of public policy for the last two years with a degree of ability and vigor, for which they can find no parallel among the members of their own party." The Times thinks, therefore, that if they are sincere in their expressed concurrence in the President's views, they should make him their candidate. Admitting this, however, to be very unlikely, the Times says:

"But upon all the grounds which used to be recognized as constituting a valid title, Mr. Johnson's claim on the Democratic party is stronger than that of any other man who has been named in connection with the office. And we think it not at all unlikely that his name would be stronger with the people than three fourths of those that are most loudly talked about."

The annexed special from Washington, to the Pittsburgh Post of the 25th, makes a similar statement of the situation. It says:

Presidential speculations are running to flood tide. Although the friends of the respective candidates for nomination are all pressing their claims, yet whoever receives the nomination will be enthusiastically supported by every lover of constitutional liberty throughout the country, regardless of former party associations. Southern politicians, now here, think that Mr. Johnson is entitled to the nomination for his gallant fight in defence of the Constitution—standing almost solitary and alone against assault after assault by the Jacobins; that it is a debt of gratitude due him for his courageous defence of the Constitution, which the country can never pay. It is expected that a resolution will be passed by the Convention, recognizing Mr. Johnson's services, but it is not regarded as possible, even by party leaders that he will receive the nomination. Although Chase has warm friends here, and although a large proportion of the managing men believe that policy dictates his nomination, others contend that no greater fallacy can exist than to suppose for an instant that Chase can divide the negro vote in the Southern States—this vote will go with the Radicals. Slavery of days past was not half so abject or servile as the submission of the negroes to the will of the carpet-bag Jacobins. Conservative politicians here regard the contest as between Pendleton and Hancock, with all the chances in favor of the former.

IF Mr. PENDLETON'S friends succeed in their avowed purpose to discard the two thirds rule in the New York Convention, his nomination will follow as a matter of course, upon the first show of hands. But the bond-holding party leaders are fully alive to the necessity of maintaining that rule, having ample assurances that, under its cover, they can "see" enough of the delegates who were elected as Pendletonians, to control their votes in another direction at the right moment. In view of some indications, which show that a movement is afoot to drop all the prominent candidates heretofore named, the greenback Democrats demand that the names of all candidates be announced before the ballotings commence. But this point is not likely to be conceded, since it would defeat that ultimate compromise which has been projected, for the purpose of composing all strifes in the party, and of which a Washington letter thus writes in advance:

The political millenium is near at hand. The plowholders and the bondholders will be found in an affectionate embrace. The ex-slaveholder and the ex-abolitionist will be in perfect harmony.

THE hopelessness of the Democratic minority in the loyal States would be more clearly apparent upon any honest poll of the popular vote. As in Pennsylvania, so in many other States of the North, that party has been enabled to maintain some respectable pretensions, and even sometimes to secure a temporary success, by its systematic and universal organization of the most audacious and culpable frauds upon the ballot-boxes. The latest indictment for Democratic election frauds comes from New Hampshire, where it is now ascertained that at least three thousand fraudulent votes were cast a few weeks since for SINCLAIR, the candidate of that party for Governor. Upon an honest poll, HARRIMAN'S Republican majority should have been upwards of five thousand. A Concord journal states that "the returns in the Secretary's office show that in the 102 Democratic towns in the State, they returned seven hundred more votes than they had ratable polls, while in the 129 Republican towns, the number of votes returned was 1,127 less than the number of ratable polls."

MARTIN LUTHER.

The Augsburg Confession, since maintained as the fundamental confession of Protestant Christianity, was presented to the German Diet on Saturday, June 25th, 1530. Dating from the publication of the celebrated Theses, the current year is regarded especially as the 350th aniversary year of the Reformation, and, two days since, at Worms, where the original Diet had its sittings, was inaugurated with imposing ceremonies a statue of Luther who was the author, as his friend Melancthon was the composer of the Confession. In the vast concourse of people who witnessed this tribute to the memory of the great Reformer, every varying shade of Protestant opinion was represented, but, as might have been expected, the Lutheran Church predominating.

GRANT AND FREEDOM.

From a speech recently delivered by Judge Lawrence, of Ohio, we reprint the significant extracts below. Eulogizing the Republican candidate for the military and administrative genius which he has established by irrefragible proofs, never to be obliterated from the annals of the Nation, the speaker proceeds to illustrate the early convictions of Gen. GRANT, touching the high question of Human Rights. Read:

"During the progress of the war, and in advance, even, of the statesmanship of Lincoln and his Cabinet, General Grant foresaw the necessity of emancipation, not only as a means of suppressing the rebellion, but to the future peace of the country, and on the 30th of August, 1862, he addressed a letter to Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, in these words:

'VICKSBURG, MISS., August 30, 1862.

DEAR SIR:—The people need not quarrel over the institution of slavery. What Vice President Stephens acknowledges as the corner-stone of the Confederacy is already knocked out. Slavery is already dead, and can not be resurrected. It would take a standing army to maintain slavery in the South if we were to make peace to-day, guaranteeing to the South all their former privileges. I never was an Abolitionist—not even what could be called anti-slavery—but I try to judge fairly and honestly, and it became patent to my mind early in the rebellion that the North and South could never live in peace with each other except as one nation, and that without slavery. As anxious as I am to see peace established, I would not therefore be willing to see any settlement until this question is settled.

Your sincere friend U. S. GRANT.'

This was the precursor of the proclamation of Emancipation, which made Lincoln immortal; and, as he invoked upon that, so we may upon this, 'the considerate judgment of mankind, and the blessing of Almighty God.' Here is evidence of statesmanship which should be printed in golden letters at the head of every copy of the Proclamation of Emancipation."

AN IMPORTANT decision, construing the provisions of the Bankruptcy Law, has just been made by Justice NELSON in the U. S. Circuit Court at New York. Substantially, he adjudged that assignments by failing debtors, under the State law, made prior to a voluntary application in bankruptcy, are valid, if untainted by fraud, so that the property cannot be taken out of the hands of the first assignees. Of the effect of this decision, the New York Times says:

The effect will be to retain, more than perhaps had been supposed possible, the state of things which existed before the Bankrupt law. Failing debtors may still put their property into the hands of such persons as they shall choose, to distribute among their creditors, without fear of having that disposition of it changed by any subsequent proceedings in bankruptcy, as long as their disposition of it is untainted with fraud. And in case such a transfer is fraudulently made, creditors may have the option of instituting bankruptcy proceedings which will be for the benefit of all, or of attacking the fraudulent transfer on their own account and for their own benefit, as heretofore.

THE Congressional Convention in the Portage District of Ohio, in re-nominating Gen. GARFIELD, its present distinguished member, for re-election, a few days since, adopted, among others, the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention is opposed to the doctrines of "Free Trade," and that we regard the subject of a tariff as a legitimate subject of legislation; and that we earnestly invite the attention of our Representatives in Congress to this question, to the end that the industrial and manufacturing interests of the country may be alike amply protected,

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The General Synod of the Reformed (Dutch) Church, at its late session, took action upon several important matters, among which we note the following: Constituting the Committee on Hartzog Hall an Executive Committee of the Board of Superintendents, and directing them to co-operate in completing the endowment of the Theological Seminary, by raising one hundred thousand dollars; augmenting the force of missionaries in the foreign field; instructing the Board of Education to aid young men in academic training, who have the sacred ministry in view; provision made for the revision of the Sunday School and Church hymnology; appointment of a Committee to revise the liturgy—all the members are opponents of Ritualism; favoring the use of means to unite all the Evangelical branches on a common fealty to Christ, and by fraternal counsels inaugurate all the right enterprises of the Evangelical household, and the employment of an agent for increasing the Building Fund of the Domestic Board of Missions. The report on the State of Religion reports that the number of persons added to the communion from the world during the past year is thirty-seven hundred and four, and by certificate from other churches is two thousand and ninety-four. The amount contributed for benevolent purposes is two hundred and four thousand four hundred and sixty-two dollars and ninety-two cents, and for congregational purposes is seven hunnred and sixty-five thousand, one hundred and forty-seven dollars sixty-six cents. The report closes with a resolution recommending that Thursday, the 14th day of January, 1869, be set apart as a day of humiliation and prayer that God may send seasons of revival.

The elegant and massive structure, Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington City, is nearly completed and ready for dedication. The building is of brown stone of the Gothic order, and will seat about two thousand persons. It has cost thus far about one hundred and seventy thousand dollars, all of which is provided for, but it will require thirty-five thousand dollars additional to complete it. The General Conference, at its session in Chicago, some weeks ago, endorsed the enterprise, and recommended each of the congregations to take a collection on Independence Sabbath, July 5th, for its completion. Rev. F. S. DeHass, the efficient pastor in charge of the work, formerly was in pastoral charge of Trinity M. E. Church in this city. Gen. Grant and Judge Chase are in the Board of Trustees, elected two or three years ago.

The Conference held at Dr. Hall's Church, New York city, to promote the re-union of the Old and New School branches of the Presbyterian Church was largely attended and was quite a success. Addresses were delivered by Doctors Adams, Smith, Shedd and others, and prayer offered by Doctors Crosby, Skinner and Hatfield. It is believed that the approval of the basis of re-union by three-fourths of the Presbyteries will be successful. Resolutions approving in warm terms of re-union were unanimously adopted.

The Pierrepont street Reformed (Dutch) Church, of Brooklyn, New York, during the past winter and spring paid the rent of four hundred and eighty-four families. This charity was bestowed irrespective of Church connections.

According to the yearly summary of the statistics of the United Presbyterian Church, compared with the returns of 1867, the reports of this year show an increase in numerical strength and in contributions. The estimate of salaries to ministers, though defective, shows that the average salary of pastors is $863.69, which, including the amount paid for supplies, will make the actual average nearly eight hundred dollars per annum.

At the late meeting of the United Presbytery of Allegheny, at New Brighton, Pa., Revs. Doctors J. B. Clark and J. S. Easton were appointed to explore the neighborhood of Jack's Run and report to the next meeting of Presbytery the propriety of establishing a preaching station there.

The Presbyterian Banner says at a communion held in the Presbyterian Church, at Bethel, Allegheny county, Rev. George Marshall, D. D., pastor, Sunday week, twenty-two persons were received on profession of faith.

The editor of the Catholic Telegraph, in answer to a correspondent, says no man can be a Catholic of any kind, except in name, while he is a member of a secret society.

The Cincinnati Gazette contains quite an interesting account of an address by Mr. Murphy, a member of the Park street M. E. Church, in that city, to the children of his class. The text was printed on cards—"Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good,"—and hung in a frame on the wall of the pulpit. During the delivery of the address, the divisions and points in each division, were attached to the frame, so as to explain and enforce its doctrinal teachings. When the address was concluded, the text, with all its divisions and points, all printed on shinny cards, was on the wall before the children. This novel plan was received with great favor by their parents.

The vestry of Trinity Episcopal Church, in New York city, have bought a lot one hundred feet square on Seventh avenue and Thirty-ninth street, for a mission church.

The question of revising the Liturgy will doubtless occupy considerable attention of the Episcopal General Convention. It is said the High Church party would many of them be glad to have the Nicene Creed changed somewhat, to pave the way for a re-union with the Eastern Church. The Evangelical party wish everything struck from the Prayer-book that savors of Romanism, and especially all that seems to favor baptismal regeneration.

The late General Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, provided for a system of Presiding Elders, leaving its introduction, however, optional with each Annual Conference. The Conference also provided for the introduction of lay delegation, and hereafter two lay delegates may be sent by each Annual Conference to the General Conference. The proffered financial aid from the American Unitarian Association was accepted, the reason for such acceptance being declared to be the pressing necessities of the Church.

The protest of Protestants residing in New York City, against the allowance of large Sunday processions in that city, is responded to by the Universe (Roman Catholic) thus: It is not likely that the protest in New York will be listened to, for the civil authority is in the hands of men who know better than to outrage Catholic feeling.

The Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church have awarded the prize on the evils of tobacco to Henry Gibbons, M. D., editor of the Pacific Medical and Surgical Journal, his essay being considered the best of some fifty competing manuscripts.

The foundation stone of the new Catholic cathedral of Brooklyn, to be erected on Lafayette avenue, was laid on Sunday last by Bishop Loughlin. Several bishops and a large number of clergymen were present, and a vast multitude of people. Archbishop McClosky preached the sermon. There was an immense procession, with regalia, banners, and numerous bands of music.

The Baptist State Convention of California, at its recent session in San Francisco, voted unanimously in favor of introducing the Bible Union version of the New Testament into general pulpit use.

The Universe (Catholic) in speaking of the twenty-three young men ordained Priests at the Provincial Seminary at Troy, N. Y., some days since, says every name on the list but one is from Ireland. The one named is Mutsaers. It asks as soon as Irish emigration stops where will vocations be found.

—A Maryland Democrat summed up the whole thing in a few words to-day. Said this politician: "Our whole stock in trade against you Radicals is your advocacy of negro suffrage; if we nominate Chase we must endorse this principle, and I for one upon the same platform prefer Grant to Chase, because he is an honest man." Certainly pages of argument could go no further than this.

National Banks and Taxation.

The impression that the National Banks carry on a vast and profitable business without sustaining any of the burdens of taxation, is shown to be a mistake by Mr. Allison, in his recent speech on the Tax Bill. Mr. Allison has been at pains to prepare a table, by States, of the capital of the banks, the amount of taxes paid to the United States, and the amount paid to and assessed by State authorities. It is not necessary here to give the details of this exhibit. The totals show that the capital employed in the National Banks of the United States is $423,304,861; the amount of taxes paid to the United States, $9,525,076 26; the amount paid to States, $8,812,823 92; the grand aggregate of taxes, $18,338,431 18. By the new Tax Bill, an additional $3,000,000 in taxes will be realized, making the total over $21,000,000. As it stands, the banks pay an annual tax on their capital of about 4½ per cent.—*Cin. The Israelites and Gen. Grant.

The New York Post says:

The reported opposition of many Hebrews to General Grant has excited much more attention than the importance of the fact really deserves.

The Times recently remarked that there are a great number of Jewish voters in the State of Indiana alone, who would go for Pendleton or whatever Democratic candidate was nominated. But the total membership of all the Jewish churches in the Union in 1860 was only 200,000, and the highest estimate of their present population is 1,000,000, which would give about 100,000 voters in the entire country.

We have pretty certain evidence that the whole body are by no means united in opposing Grant, and that, above all, they have no disposition to take a sectarian position in the canvass.

THE Philadelphia Press says: An adjourned meeting of the commissioners of the States having soldiers buried at Antietam will assemble in this city on the 17th of November coming. The matter under special consideration will be the disposition of those unhappy men who fell in arms against their country. There will not likely be much trouble on this point. The brave and generous instincts of loyalty will not follow with anger the unfortunate dead.

IN various places; the stampede from the Democratic ranks to the standard of Grant, has already commenced. Seventy-five voters of the Democratic persuasion came in a body to a Republican caucus at Auburn, Maine, a few evenings since, and announced their intention to work and vote with the Republican party in the future.

THE Hon. Thaddeus Stevens regrets the publication of statements regarding his new impeachment articles, as they are decidedly premature. The additional statement that he intended to present them to the House yesterday is entirely without foundation in fact, as he has not as yet made up his mind to present them at all.

A WASHINGTON special says: A number of southern and western Democratic politicians are in town, and Chase stock is far below par, and all the Democrats who visit him come away dissatisfied. They say he is as raidcal a republican as either Grant or Colfax.

IT is stated that the leading article in the New York World repudiating Chase was the result of a sharp remonstrance from Democratic members of Congress, the substance of which was that the World was placing the party in a false position.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.

When the system is once affected it will not rally of its own accord; it needs help—it must be strengthened and invigorated; this is especially the case when the

KIDNEYS, BLADDER OR URINARY ORGANS

Are affected. For immediate relief and permanent cure,

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Are a perfectly safe and reliable specific. This well known remedy has effected a large number of speedy and remarkable cures, and have never failed to give relief when taken according to directions.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Are purely vegetable, and contain no mercury or calomel. They do not exhaust the system, but on the contrary they act as a tonic, imparting new tone and vigor to the organs and strengthening the whole body. These Pills have stood the test of thirty-five years, and are still gaining in popularity.

LET US PROTECT OURSELVES.

The physical structure of the strongest human being is vulnerable everywhere. Our bodies are endowed by nature with a certain negative power, which protects them, to some extent, from unwholesome influences; but this protection is imperfect, and cannot be safely relied on in unhealthy regions, or under circumstances of more than ordinary danger. Therefore, it is wisdom; it is prudence; it is common sense to provide against such contingencies by taking an antidote in advance; in other words, by fortifying the system with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS—the most complete protective against all the epidemic and endemic maladies that has ever been administered in any country. As a remedy for Dyspepsia, there is no medicine that will compare with it. Whoever suffers the pangs of indigestion, anywhere on the face of the earth where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS can be procured, does so voluntarily; for, as surely as truth exists, this invaluable TONIC and ALTERATIVE would restore his disordered stomach to a healthy condition. To the nervous it is also especially recommended, and in cases of confirmed constipation it also affords speedy and permanent relief. In all cases of fever and ague the BITTERS is more potent than any amount of quinine, while the most dangerous cases of bilious fever yield to its wonderful properties. Those who have tried the medicine will never use another, for any of the ailments which the HOSTETTER BITTERS professes to subdue. To those who have not made the experiment we cordially recommend an early application to the BITTERS whenever they are stricken by disease of the digestive organs.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

EVIDENCES OF SUCCESS.

Testimonial from Hon. John Covode, Member of Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 12, 1861.

For more than a year I suffered inconvenience from a constant sounding in my left ear. On the 21st of May I applied for Relief to Dr. E. S. Aborn, at 134 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh. He relieved me at once, and from that day to this I have had no difficulty of any kind. Truly,

JOHN COVODE.

Sight Restored.

S. P. COATES, of Allegheny City, called on Dr. Aborn—totally blind for two years—after one week's treatment was able to read the newspaper.

Consumption Entirely Cured,

Miss DONNELLY, of Bayardstown, was one year ago confined to bed with Consumption, given up to die by her attending Physicians. Under Dr. Aborn's treatment she has entirely recovered, and is now a hale, hearty woman.

Deafness Cured.

W. WAGNER, Esq., Cashier of National Bank, Morgantown, West Virginia, called on Dr. Aborn nearly two years ago for Deafness, and in a few months time his hearing was perfectly restored, and still remains perfect.

Remarkable Cure of Chronic Catarrh---Diminished in Weight 30 Pounds---Under Dr. Aborn's Treatment the Patient has Gained 33 Pounds.

R. T. KECK, Esq., of Clarion county, Pa., afflicted for fourteen (14) years with Chronic Catarrh, has recovered from the loathsome disease under Dr. Aborn's treatment, and gained 33 pounds.

Testified to by Dr. R. B. Brown, of Troy, Jefferson county, Pa.

Another Evidence of Skill.

G. M. WOOLSEY, of Gray's Landing, Pa., a very wealthy and respected old gentleman of some fifty years' experience in this world, called at our sanctum yesterday to contribute his certificate to the skill and ability of Dr. E. S. Aborn, the well known Surgeon and Physician. Mr. Woolsey has been suffering during the past fourteen years with a painful any annoying Tumor on the left arm, and being advised of Dr. Aborn's professional merits, called on him yesterday for treatment. To use the old gentleman's own language, "the Tumor was removed in two seconds without any pain and no hemorrhage ensuing." This was a skillful and scientific operation, and will take its place in the volume of cures approaching miracles which have marked Dr. Aborn's professional career.—Gazette, June 9, 1868.

A Marvellous Cure.

Mr. T. McEVOY, a very worthy young man employed at Moorhead's Rolling Mill, called at our sanctum last evening to communicate for the benefit of the afflicted a marvellous cure effected on him by Dr. E. S. Aborn, the well known Surgeon and Oculist. Nineteen years ago, when a mere child, four years age, Mr. McEvoy was afflicted with that loathsome disease, the small pox. As a dreg he was bequeathed by the dreadful scourge an opacity, or white spot, which grew entirely over the pupil of his left eye, completely destroying its sight. Hearing of Dr. Aborn's skill he repaired to his office some two months ago and placed himself under his treatment. Last night he expressed himself to us as effectually and entirely cured, and could now see with an eye which had been totally blind, unable to discriminate light from darkness for over nineteen years. The cure was remarkable, but it may be regarded only as another link in the great chain of evidence of Dr. Aborn's skill and ability, as an Oculist and Surgeon.—Gazette, June 10, 1861.

Success the Test of Merit.

Of all the standards for testing merit, none is more reliable than success. Success in art, in science and in business of every nature implies merit, and the greater the success the more extraordinary the merit. These reflections are occasioned by witnessing the remarkable success attending the peculiar treatment of special diseases by the eminent Physician and Surgeon, Dr. E. S. Aborn. A visit to his handsomely furnished apartments at No. 134 Smithfield street, the ante-room of which is filled almost constantly by patients, will furnish proof that his mode of treatment is not only popular, but that it is peculiarly efficacious.

The Doctor's skill in getting speedily at the diagnosis of a disease, and the confident manner in which he treats his patients, unmistakably indicate that he is a scientific and experienced practitioner. His pretensions are backed by solid acquirements, and the volume of certificates of his skill, acquired during his short residence in this city of nearly one year, is sufficiently potential to prove him an able and accomplished Physician and Surgeon. Few if any men in his profession have been so uniformly successful in their practice. He has treated with marked success several obstinate cases of gentlemen connected with this office, whose testimony is already before the public, and may be relied upon. The testimony in favor of his mode of treatment for diseases of the eye, ear, catarrh and affections of the throat and chest, is so overwhelming that all that may follow will only be cumulative. His reputation here, where he intends to make his permanent residence, is sufficiently established, and it is extending rapidly to remote towns and cities, as is evidenced by the arrival of a large number of patients from a distance. In another column will be found a number of certificates that speak for themselves, and much more to the purpose than anything we could write.—Commercial, Sept. 6, 1867.

☞ NOTICES—"To Let," "For Sale," "Lost," "Wants," "Found," "Boarding," &c., not exceeding FOUR LINES each will be inserted in these columns once for TWENTY-FIVE CENTS; each additional line FIVE CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

POLICE NOTICE.

The imminent danger to life and property attending the firing of guns and pistols, and the explosion of fire crackers and fire works in our public streets on the Fourth of July, and the sad accidents which have annually resulted from this injudicious mode of celebrating our National Holiday, have induced a large number of our most influential citizens, including property owners, underwriters, and others deeply interested in the safety of property within our city precincts, to address me on the subject, requesting that I should enforce the City Ordinances prohibiting it. This it is unquestionably my duty to do, and I now hereby give notice that I will give it my ESPECIAL attention. All offenders against the law will therefore be rigidly prosecuted, and the fines and penalties imposed, IN EVERY CASE, without regard to person.
Je27:s7 JAMES BLACKMORE, Mayor.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 26, 1868.

Govermnnt securities were very dull today, and decidedly lower. The entire recent advance from 112½ for consols to 114¼ was due to a prearranged speculative movement, and neither the banks that carried these bonds nor the saving institutions were purchasers during all the excitement in the bond market. The question raised again of paying these bonds in greenbacks, has affected the market unfavorably in Europe, and prevented timid people from investing at present. Many persons having engagements to meet about July first have deferred the rate of their bonds in the hope of obtaining better prices, but seeing the markets on its downward course, they are more anxious to realize at once and thus adding more force to the decline. It is proper to take the heavy payments of July into account when money will be cheaper yet, but this has been discounted by the shrewd operators and should they be able to precipitate the market beyond its proper bounds, they will engineer an upward movement jnst at a term when everybody is anxious to invest in something thus making a double harvest for the specalator.

Gold was dull at 140¼ to 140¾; the amounts purchased for export are insignificant; the importers preferring, in most cases, to see the effect of the large payment of July first. The market being heavily oversold it may prevent a rapid decline at once, the future price of gold being to a great extent depependent on the action of the Democratic Convention on July 4th. An unfavorable recommendation on the finance question may have more bearing on the gold market by foreign bondholders and speculators, as it would with the people here of the Morthern States.

Stocks are dull and generally lower. Express shares are very dull, and have declined some 2 per cent. within the day.

Money is tightening up again, preparatory to the July payments, and business is quiet.

There is more inquiry for local stocks to earn the next dividend, but parties are holding at stiff rates, which they may repent after July, when a general downward movement in stocks and securities is expected preparatory to the fall business.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140¼; 1881 bonds, 117¾; 1862 5-20s, 113; 1864 do, 110¾; 1865 do, 111; new, 1865 and 1867, 113⅞; Ten Forties, 107; Seven Thirties, 109⅝.

New York Central, 134½; Erie, 68¾; Michigan Southern, 92; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 90¼; Northwestern, common, 69¼; Preferred, 79½; Chicago & Rock Island, 105¼; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 112¼; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 30¼; Merchants Union Express, 26¼; Western Union Telegraph, 34½; Corydon, 34; Quicksilver, 25; Quartz Hill, 1,10.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 140¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 117¾; 5-20's, 1862, 113¼; 5-20's, 1864, 110⅞; 5-20's, 1865, 111¼; 10-40's, 107; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 113⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 113¾; June 7-30's, 109¾; July 7-30's, 109¾; May Comp., 1865, 119,-30.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 26, 1868.

There is but little that is new or really important to be said about the markets in general. The firmness noted in Flour seems to have diminished somewhat, and some kinds of Grain is easier, particularly Oats, which is in consequence of increased arrivals. We saw a sample of new Flour to-day, made from Tennessee Wheat, and in the course of a day or two an arrival of a car load is expected. It comes from Nashville, and is consigned to Messrs. Isaiah Dickey & Co. Messrs. D. & Co. also ex-a car load of new Wheat from the same place, and, we understand that Messrs. R. T. Kennedy & Bro., of the Pearl Mill, have also been buying considerable new Wheat in Tennessee.

BUTTER—There is a moderate local demand for Butter, but under the influence of increased receipts, it is probable that prices will go lower; we continue to quote, however, at 25 to 27c for prime to choice fresh packed.

EGGS—Continue dull and drooping, and we now give 22c as the ruling price.

HAY—Is dull but unchanged; wagon Hay is still selling at $15 to $20 per ton, according to quality.

GRAIN—Wheat is a little firmer in consequence of scarcity, and some of the mills are buying at an advance; we can report 300 bushels No. 1 Spring at $2,31, and 100 bags prime Red Winter at $2,37½. The arrivals of a few car loads would be sufficient to cause a break, as the mills are buying from hand-to-mouth. We understand that new Wheat can be brought here from Tennessee at about $2,40. Corn is dull and neglected; may be quoted at $1 to $1,05 on track, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Oats in better supply and drooping; sale of 1 car at 75c; 1 do de at 76½c, and 1 at 77c. Rye is dull, and cannot fairly be quoted above $1,50, and while the arrivals are light, the same is true of the demand. Nothing doing in Barley.

POTATOES—New Potatoes with a fair demand at $6 to $6,50 per bbl. Peach Blows (old crop) $1,20 per bushel.

MILL FEED—Is dull and drooping; we now quote at $1 to $1,10 for Bran, and $1,60 to $1,80 for Middlings, according to quality.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 13½c for Shoulders; 16c to 18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 19½c to 19¾c for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 17¾ to 18c, for prime kettle rendered. Dried Beef, 22 to 23c. Mess Pork, $28 to $28,50.

LARD OIL—Is quiet and unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,40 for No. 1.

HOMINY—Is dull, with small sales in store at $6,25 to $6,50.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is scarce and in demand at $2,50 to $2,55. No demand whatever for Clover or Timothy Seeds.

FLOUR—The market is dull and a little weak, though without quotable change. We continue to quote at $9,50 to $10 for low grade Spring Wheat, and $10,50 to $10,75 for good to choice do. Winter Wheat is still quoted at $11 to $11,50, and fancy brands at $14 to $15.

CHEESE—Is in fair demand, with regular sales reported at 20c for Ohio Sweitzer; 19c for Limburg; Western Reserve at 13 to 14c, and Factory at 15 to 16c.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 26, 1868.

CRUDE—There market for Crude was firmer to-day and somewhat excited, and, compared with yesterday, prices have still further advanced. The sales were: 300 bbls, on spot, at 12¼c; 1,000 bbls for July, selier's option, at 13c; 1,000 bbls, all year, buyer's option—resale of contract— at 14c, difference in cash; and 500 bbls for July or August, seller's option, at 15½c, packages included. We heard of an offer to buy a tank of spot at 13c, but owing to some unexplained contingencies, the sale at last accounts had not been consummated. At Oil City there has also been an advance, notwithstanding the report of a 1,000 to 1,200 barrel having been struck; sale of 8 car loads reported at $5,25 per bbl.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was remarkably brisk to-day, the reported sales being larger than during any preceeding day for some time, reaching over twenty thousand barrels, in the aggregate. This movement must be entirely speculative, as there is nothing in the character of the eastern or European markets to cause such a sudden and unexpected flurry; speculators must be of the opinion that the top has not yet been touched; otherwise, they would not have pitched in as they did to-day. The sales reported were as follows:

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, June 26, 1868.

Under the influence of continued light arrivals and diminished stocks, the tone of the market continues firm, especially for leading standard forge irons. The sales of the week were not very large, which was owing mainly to the fact that the supply of desirable brands is almost entirely exhausted. In fine irons there was a fair business at abont last week's quotations:

MEADVILLE.

The New Methodist Church—Allegheny College Commencement, &c., &c.

MEADVILLE, PA., June 24, 1868.

EDITORS GAZETTE—This young city is a "spring of beauty," and one feels like wishing it may be a joy forever." It is growing rapidly. Quite a number of buildings are in progress of erection, among others a new Court House. This is intended to rival anything of the kind in the State. The Methodist Episcopal Church is well nigh completed. It is a credit to all concerned, massive, capacious, well-planned, and finely finished. It is to be dedicated on the 29th of next month. The celebrated Wesleyan orator, Rev. Morley Punshan, is to preach the dedicatory sermon. In this the Meadvillites may regard themselves fortunate.

This is commencement week in Allegheny College. The regular examination of classes began on last Wednesday, and was completed yesterday—a long and thorough examination, and withal very satisfactory.

Of the Faculty of Allegheny College we can speak most confidently. They are very competent men. They do thorough work. They not only train the intellect, but cultivate the heart. Students are safe in their hands—as safe, at least, as they can be at any literary institution.

The Baccalaureate sermon was preached on last Sabbath by Rev. Dr. Thompson, of Jamestown, New York. It is spoken of in very commendable terms.

On Monday eveninb the anniversary exercises of the Allegheny Literary Society took place. Valedictory by Mr. B. F. Beazell, of Webster, Pa., and reply by Mr. A. Burr Force, of North East, Pa.

Tuesday afternoon ten young gentlemen declaimed for two prizes. It was a spirited affair. There was not a single failure; all did well. Such was the excellence of several of the contestants that the judges found it difficult to make the awards. They, however, concluded to give the first prize to Mr. J. R. Groves, of Rockdale, Pa., and the second to Mr. C. Barris, of Gustavus, Ohio.

In the evening the Anniversary of the Philo-Franklin Literary Society was held. The Prize Essay was read by Mr. J. P. Coulter, Venango Borough, Pa.

The Valedictory was dellvered by Mr. Lewis Wick, Brownington, Pa., and the reply by C. W. Foulk, Sugar Grove, Pa.

More anon, AMICUS.

MEADVILLE, June 25, 1868.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Yesterday afternoon the Biblical Literary Society held is Anniversary. The "Hunter Prize Essay" was read ay Mr. W. H. Hashell, of Ohio. The Valedictory was delivered by Aleinous A. Brown, Hartville, Ohio, and the Reply by George E. Neville, of Ohio. In the evening the Address before the Alumni Association was delivered by Rev. W. A. Davidson, D.D., of Washington, Pa.

This forenoon the graduates gave us their orations and received their diplomas. The following afe their names: N. P. Kinsley, Mentor, Ohio; John T. Riley, Waynesburg, Pa.; George F. Davenport, McDowells, Pa.; R. F. Randolph, Sanama, N. Y.; B. F. Bearell, Webster, Pa.; H. Neville, Mayfield, Ohio; J. G. Albin, Mercer Pa.; George L. McMillan, Greensburg, Pa.; Lewis Wick, Brownington, Pa.; John H. Wright, Washington, Pa.; J. R. Froves, Rockdale Mills, Pa.; J. F. Colter, Venango borough, Pa.; A. A. Brown, Hartville, Ohio; W. Todd, Freeport, Pa.

The degree of A. M., in course, was conferred on S. M. Davis, Meadville, Pa.; R. M. DeMain, Colorado; B. E. Edgill, Ohio; C. M. Mechesney, Iowa.

Rev. W. Graham, of Indiana, was honored with the degree of D. D.

The graduating class is a very fine one, indeed. Their orations to-day were more than ordinarily good. They were full of thought, well-written, and gracefully and forcibly delivered.

The College is in fine working order, and deserves to be largely patronized. Nearly two-thirds of the whole number of students in attendance the last session were professors of religion.

JUNE 26.—Last eveing a large number of the patrons and friends of the College assembled at the residence of President Loomis, to enjoy social festivities. It was a delightful occasion. The President and his estimable wife know how to make their guests share their hospitality with ease and pleasure.

When we dispersed, which was at an early hour, all felt that commencement week at Allegheny had been one of unusual interest, and that it had now ended delightfully. AMICUS.

LETTER FROM DETROIT.

International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association.

DETROIT, June 24, 1868.

DEAR GAZETTE.—After having run up Liberty street as fast as I could, I made the train, on Penn street. After a long and dusty ride, distributing tracts all along the route, we reached Cleveland and were met at the depot by a delegation from the Young Men's Christian Association of Cleveland, and escorted to their rooms, where the ladies, (God bless them,) who are ever thoughtful, and whom we ever gratefully remember, had a bountiful repast set for us. After having replenished the inner man, the meeting was called to order by Rev. P. B. Simmons, of Philadelphia, who opened the meeting with prayer, and read the first Psalm, after which the prayer meeting was left in the hand s of the delegates. Prayers, remarks and exhortations, interspersed with singing, was the order of the evening. General O. O. Howard, of the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington City, being present, was called upon, and made some very touching remarks. Fitting words were spoken by Bros. Hall, of Washington City, and H. Kirk Porter, President of Pittsburgh Young Men's Christian Association. Bro. Wright, a delegate from the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington City, (colored), made a stirring speech, in the course of which he said they were going to "work until the Fatherhood of God, and the Brotherhood of man should be universally recognized." His remarks were listened to with deep interest. After singing and benediction by Bro. Barnitz, of Wheeling, the delegates were escorted to the boat by a delegation from the Cleveland Young Men's Christian Association. "All aboard boat" whistled, and off we go for Detroit, after getting on board the splendid steamer R. N. Rice, the kindness of whose clerk to our delegation I will not soon forget, and getting our state rooms, we organized and sang hymns till we were sleepy.

Your correspondent did not get sick, but felt very queer, this being his first trip on the Wide Wide —— Lake. After taking my old chum J. E. S. by the arm we went to our rooms to—lay awake all night thinking of the fate of those who recently went down on the Morning Star. Arrived in Detroit next morning at six o'clock; met at the dock by a delegation from Detroit Y. M. C. A., who escorted us to their magnificent rooms, which were decorated with flags, emblems, &c., &c. After being assigned our different boarding houses, we went to prayer meeting, held in the Baptist church, Rev. Chase, formerly of Pittsburgh, and had a very interesting meeting. The Convention will meet for organization this afternoon, (Wednesday,) June 24th, at three o'clock, at the Central Methodist Episcopal Church. The Welcome meeting will be held on Thursday evening, June 24th, at the same place, and the Farewell meeting on Sunday, June 28th. It is believed that this Convention, occurring after a year of increased interest throughout the United States and the Provinces, and at a time when God's blessing upon the efforts of Christian young men, so manifest in the increase of their organization and members, will be of peculiar value and interest. About one thousand delegates have arrived up to the present time, and still they come. The Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburgh is represented by Mr. H. Kirk Porter, E. T. Cook, E. P. Long, J. E. Sellers, T. R. Cree, A. B. Riggs, S. P. Harbison, Arthur W. Bell and Henry A. Lavely.

The Steamboat "Republic" Murder at St. Louis.

From the St. Louis Democrat we clip the following particulars of the murder of a colored man by Captain W. B. Donaldson, of this city, of the steamboat Great Republic, at the port of St. Louis.

The magnificent steamer Great Republic arrived at our landing about 12 o'clock night before last, and between 1 and 2 o'clock a human life was taken on board that boat under circumstances which must send a thrill of horror through the heart of every one reading the testimony elicited at the Coroner's inquest, which was of several hours' duration, all the persons upon the boat being examined whose evidence could have any bearing upon the case.

While on her way from New Orleans to St. Louis one of the cabin boys, or rather the texas-tender, who was detailed by the Steward to attend to the texas, named Lawrence Glover, refused to scrub, for reasons of his own, which the Steward considered not good, and he was therefore handcuffed and placed in the baggage-room. Henry Anderson, another cabin-boy, was incensed at the usage of Glover, made remarks to the effect that the crew ought to quit if the boy was not released, and spoke to the Captain about it, who refused to act in the matter, and some of the cabin crew went to the baggage-room and took the prisoner out, but no violence was used. Afterwards both Anderson and Glover were placed in irons and confined in the baggage-room where they were on the arrival of the Great Republic at the St. Louis landing. After her arrival, between the hours stated, Anderson was shot through the forehead and killed. It would appear from the evidence that Captain Donaldson, the porter, and the boy, Lawrence Glover, were in the baggage-room at the time of the killing. Captain Barr, one of the clerks, was either inside or just outside the baggage-room—the evidence differs as to his exact locality. Glover escaped and told his story at the police station, and officers were sent to arrest the Captain, who, upon their arrival, was not on board, he having gone up into the city. Search was made, and about nine o'clock yesterday morning officers Goodky and Darlington met and arrested him on Cherry street, coming to the boat. Captain D. denied all knowledge of the killing.

These are the circumstances in brief. A terrible murder has been committed, but it is not our province to prejudge the case by indulging in personal comments. The evidence substantially and in the order given, appears below.

Captain W. B. Donaldson is a young man—perhaps thirty-five years of age—but is remarkably well known, and, we believe, much liked on the western waters for his gentlemanly and generous deportment. He superintended the building of the Great Republic, and has been in command since her launch. It is understood he has a large interest in her. He is a married man, and resides in Pittsburgh.

Judge Denison was yesterday afternoon called upon to take bail, but peremptorily refused to do so. L. M. Shreve, Esq., appeared in behalf of the prisoner, at the Coroner's inquest, which was held in the wash room of the boat, the body of the murdered man remaining upon the floor of the baggage room, the handcuffs, however, having been removed.

Henry Anderson, the deceased, is a negro, very dark, perhaps thirty years old, five feet seven or eight inches high, with mustache and imperial. Of his home or family nothing was learned. The wound is near the temple and death must have been instantaneous.

The principle witness before the Coroner's Jury was Lawrence Glover, who testified as follows:

Lawrence Glover—I have been cabin boy on this boat; I live in Philadelphia when I am at home; I had to wait on tables and carry coal; the Steward wanted me to scrub, I told him I couldn't scrub to-day; this was Monday; he said if I did not scrub he would put me in irons; I told him he would have to put me in irons, I could'nt scrub to-day; was put in irons in the baggage room; the other man was put there about an hour afterwards; he had irons on also; the Steward said if he put one in irons he would have to put all in irons; the Captain said the two were put in irons to make the crew quit; deceased said he was put in irons for nothing; last night we were laying in the baggage room, after we arrived here; when Captain Barr and Captain Donaldson came in the porter was lying down there; the porter told the Captain that deceased had the handcuffs before him—he put them behind him; Captain Donaldson made him step over them and put them behind him again; the Captain made us "squat" five or six times and get up again; he had a pistol in each hand, and pointed one at the other and one at me; Capt. Barr said nothing from the time they came in to the time they went out; Capt. Donaldson then jumped on the other boy and said he had a great mind to shoot him; the porter held the Captain's arm back; I told the Captain my foot was cut and asked the porter to put whisky or something on it to stop it; the Captain said, "all right;" while the porter was drawing the whisky from a barrel in the baggage room Captain Donaldson put a pistol beside Anderson's temple and shot him. The Captain turned on me and said, "I had better shoot this little s—n of a b—h, he'll go and tell it." The porter said, "no, I'll make that all right." While the Captain and porter were talking, I reached down to pick up a hatchet to open the window within and picked up the Derringer he shot deceased with. I tore the window open by hand, jumped out and ran over two or three ladies, and ran for the police station; I got one of the handcuffs off my hand behind some barrels; I went past the station and met a policeman; I had the pistol and the handcuff; I told the policeman, when he asked me where I was going, to the police station; he took me there; while the shooting was going on Captain Barr stood inside the room; as the shot was fired he went out; he was within ten or twelve feet of Captain Donaldson; he could not have prevented the shot, it was made so quick; the porter was standing close by, drawing the whisky, and not looking at the Captain. The Captain had not threatened to shoot the man before this.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting.—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Closed.—The Allegheney public schools closed yesterday until September.

Grading.—The grading on Smallman street, in the Ninth ward, will be completed next week.

Repairing.—The Second Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, on Diamond street, is undergoing repairs.

Water Pipes.—A six inch water pipe is being laid on Smallman street, Ninth ward, from Taylor to Morton street.

Penn Street.—The work of repairing Penn street still continues, and it is making a great improvement on that thoroughfare.

A drunken fellow was very promptly ejected last evening by Conductor Monaghan from car No. 9 Citizens Passenger Railway.

Enclosed.—The metal yard of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, at Liberty and Grant streets, is being enclosed with a stout paling fence.

Wood Street.—The paving of Wood street from Fifth to Liberty with the Nicolson pavement will be commenced the second week in July.

Second Street.—The work of paving Second street will be commenced on Monday. The gravel is being put on preparatory to laying the cobble stones.

To be Paved.—The contractor will commence paving Mulberry alley, Ninth ward, the first of next week. The curbs have been set, and the grading is completed.

Nearly three hundred delegates to the German Schützenfest left the Union Depot for New York yesterday afternoon. Some eighty of this number were from Chicago.

Tent Preaching.—Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., tent preaching will be held at the "Point" to-morrow (Sabbath) afternoon at a quarter past four o'clock. All are invited.

Passed Through.—A number of delegates from the West, to the Democratic Convention to be held in New York City on the 4th of July next, passed through our city yesterday.

Base Ball.—The match game of base ball at Union Park, yesterday, between the Eclipse, of Chester, and the Olympics, of Allegheny, resulted in a victory for the latter, the score being 35 to 10.

Alleged Larceny.—Caroline Miller, residing at 47 Penna. Avenue, made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging John Rice with the larceny of five dollars. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Y. M. C. A.—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held this evening at their rooms on Fifth street at half past seven o'clock. Every member is urged to be present.

Assault and Battery.—M. Gestner made information before Justice Ammon, charging James Tode with assault and battery. The parties work at Jones & Laughlin's mills in Brownstown. A warrant was issued.

Assault and Battery.—Phoebe Frank made information, yesterday, against her husband, John Frank, for assault and battery. The parties reside in the Fifth ward. A warrant was issued by Alderman Taylor.

Completed.—The laying of the double track of the Federal street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway, extending to Monterey street, has been completed. The rest of the road will be laid with a single track.

Graded.—Point and Duquesne streets, in the First ward, which have never been paved, having become filled up in the centre to a great height, have been properly graded and now present a smooth and even surface.

Will Remove.—The American Car Spring Co. are erecting a fine brick building at the corner of Liberty and Allegheny streets, and will remove from their present location, opposite the Union Depot, as soon as it is completed.

Postponed.—Owing to the holding of the festival of Grace Lutheran Church, in the Town Hall, the meeting of the Birmingham Grant and Colfax Club, announced for this evening, has been postponed until next Saturday evening.

Fifth Street.—The Street Commissioner complains that there is too much water put on Fifth street by the sprinkler, in consequence of which the sand and gravel is being washed off before it is thoroughly worked in the pavement.

Iron Market.—During the past week there has been no change in prices of iron and nails, but they are held more firmly. On account of excessively warm weather, the mills that have been running double, have been compelled to drop to single turn.

Breach of Peace.—Mary Weiss, made information yesterday against George Weiss, before Alderman Mullen, charging him with breach of the peace. He was arrested and after remaining in the watch-house all night, the charge was withdrawn and the prisoner released.

Disorderly Conduct.—Mrs. Little made information before Justice Ammon, yesterday, charging Henry alias Loafer Little with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was arrested and after a hearing fined twenty-five dollars and costs, in default of which he was committed to jail.

East Liberty Lots at Auction.—See advertisement of sale on Thursday, July 2d, of Ninety Building Lots within three minutes' walk of East Liberty station, Pennsylvania Railroad, and adjoining the country residence of John A. Scott, Esq. Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Auctioneers.

Closes To-night.—The ladies fair and festival, for the benefit of the Ross street M. E. Church, at Lafayette Hall, closes to-night. There is still an abundant supply of the good things on hand, and as this is the last night it is desirable that it be signalized by a very large attendance. Remember the place, Lafayette Hall, to-night.

Festival in Birmingham.—Owing to the great success which has attended the Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival held in the Town Hall, Birmingham, for the benefit of Grace Lutheran Church, it has been decided to continue it one more evening. We need hardly remind our readers that the last night is always the best, which, added to the plentiful supply of refreshments, and the very worthy object of the Festival, should be sufficient to attract an unusually large attendance.

Heavy Theft.

A girl formerly in the employ of Mrs. Captain Frisbee, residing on Union avenue, Allegheny, was arrested yesterday on a suspicion of having stolen a valuable gold watch and some jewelry. It seems Mrs. Frisbee placed the watch and jewelry in a drawer of her dressing bureau, and having occasion to look in the drawer yesterday she discovered that it had been broken into and the articles abstracted. The girl had a hearing, but as no evidence implicating her at all in the theft could be adduced she was promptly discharged.

Meeting of the Allegheny City Republican Executive Committee—Full Attendance.

The Allegheny City Republican Executive Committee held a meeting last evening in the Treasurer's office, City Building, at eight o'clock. The meeting came to order, with Mr. McDonald in the chair.

On motion the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The roll was called by wards, all of them being represented.

The chairman stated that the object of the meeting was the adoption of a plan for the perfect organization of each ward for work.

On motion, a Committee, consisting of one member from each ward, was appointed to prepare a plan of organization.

After a short consultation the Committee reported recommending the appointment by the Executive Committee of a Sub-Committee of five in each ward to organize Grant Clubs in their respective wards, and that the City Executive Committee attend in a body at the organization of each club; also recommending the utmost endeavor to have the city properly organized at once. Considerable discussion ensued, but the report was finally adopted, and in accordance with its provisions the various Committees were appointed by the Chair.

On motion the sub-committees were instructed to give notice when they were ready for action to the President and Secretary of the City Executive Committee, who would then call a meeting for the purpose of organization.

A Finance Committee of one from each ward was appointed.

On motion adjourned to meet on Monday evening, July 6th, at the same place.

Homicide—A Fatal Stabbing Affray in Greensburg.

A stabbing affray occurred in Greensburg, Westmoreland county, on Thursday evening, which resulted in the death of David Monagan, a young man who resided with Dr. Townsend in the capacity of gardener and man of all work. It appears that Monagan was a weak-minded creature, in consequence of which the boys and young men were continually playing practical jokes upon him, and on Monday evening a party of boys, among whom was William Drum, were standing on the street when Monagan passed. Drum in a joking manner accused him of stealing a coat, which accusation being backed up by his companions, so enraged Monagan that he wanted to fight; but some of the party interfered and prevailed upon him to go home. Thursday evening about nine o'clock he was passing along the street again and observing Drum and William Cowan standing together on the opposite side of the street, swore he would "have satisfaction of those fellows," and crossed over to where they were. He struck Drum three or four times in the face, when the latter drew a pocket knife and stabbed his assailant with it in the left side. The wounded man fell, and was removed to a house near by, where medical aid was rendered him. His injury was mortal, however, and yesterday morning at about eight o'clock he expired. Young Drum was arrested yesterday morning, and his father, William Drum, who has been in this city for some time, was sent for and left on the morning train.

Charge of Fraud.

Benedict Abend made information yesterday before Alderman Mullen, charging Charles Hoag with endeavoring to defraud him. Abend alleges that the defendant is indebted to him for wages to the amount of thirty dollars, and that he has given to another party a judgment note, covering all his assets, with the intention of defrauding his creditors. The accused was held for a hearing.

John Weaver made information before the same magistrate charging Charles Deitrich with fraud. The prosecutor says he was employed by the defendant to collect lumber for the firm of which he is a member, and that upon his demanding his wages, amounting to twenty-five dollars, it was refused. As Deitrich is about to leave the city, Weaver wants to have the money collected before his departure. Arrested and held for a hearing.

Election of Teachers.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Sixth Ward Schools, held at the public school house on Franklin street, yesterday morning, the following teachers were elected for the ensuing year:

D. C. Holmes, Principal.

Grammar Department—Miss Caroline S. Davis, Miss Martha J. McCracken, Miss Mary M. Foulks, Miss Evelyn M. Simpson.

Intermediate Department—Miss Martha B. Snodgrass, Miss Eliza J. Getty, Miss Amanda Snyder, Miss Lizzie D. Brown.

Primary Department—Miss Maria J. Kinkead, Miss Martha Coleman, Miss Lucy G. Shepard, Miss Sarah J. Leech, Miss Sallie J. Rea, Miss Mary Fleming, Miss Emily Hall, Miss Lizzie Bowers, Miss Anna Hutchinson, Miss Lizzie V. Jeffries.

Sudden Death.

Mr. Lyman W. Brown, of New York, died suddenly at the Union Depot yesterday evening. Mr. B. had been in feeble health for some time, and recently his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swisshelm, of Lawrenceville, went to New Yark to visit him. The sick man thought that a change of air would be beneficial and insisted on coming here with his friends. They readily consented to the proposition and started with him, arriving at the depot yesterday morning. Traveling had exhausted him so much that he could proceed no further, and he began to sink rapidly. Dr. Dickson was called in, but despite all the exertions of medical skill he survived only a few minutes after his arrival.

An Allegheny Citizen Dying at Cincinnati.

We find the following in Thursday's Cincinnati Chronicle: "Night before last, a man named David Ewing, a resident of Allegheny City, where his family resides, was brought to the Cincinnati Hospital in an insensible condition, laboring under what is supposed to be disease of the brain. He was slightly conscious when brought to the Hospital, but rapidly sank into insensibility, and will remain in this condition until death sets in. His wife has been telegraphed for through the Chief of Police in Pittsburgh, as it was impossible to learn his exact residence. Ewing is a trader, and was en route from New Orleans to Pittsburgh with some five tons of moss."

Alumnæ Re-Union.

The past graduates of the Pittsburgh Female College held their annual reüion at the College Chapel, last evening. There were present representatives from most of the classes since the organization of the College, and a few invited guests. The reading of the customary reports was very interesting. Miss Lydia A. B. Robinson, President, presided. At the conclusion of the exercises the members and guests partook of a repast spread in the commodious dining halls of the College. The remainder of the evening was spent in promenading and social conversation.

Carncross & Dixey Minstrels.—The lovers of good music and inimitable burlesque will hear with pleasure of the coming of Carncross & Dixey, who appear on Monday night, June 29th, at the Opera House. They bring with them their entire troupe from their Opera House, Philadelphia, and produce on the opening night in addition to Ethiopian selections, ballads, &c., the admirable burlesque of "Under the Gas Light," as performed by them in Philadelphia over one hundred nights to crowded houses.

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

Court met at the usual hour Friday morning, and resumed the COAL MINERS' RIOT CASE.

The prosecution continued their evidence, which was mainly corroborative of what was offered on Thursday. The witness William Hart underwent a searching cross-examination, and repeated with great minuteness what fell under his observation during the disturbance. Other witnesses were called, and the prosecution closed at half-past two o'clock, having identified all of the defendants present for trial. Inasmuch, however, as none of them were identified as having taken part in the assault on Mr. John O'Neill, Mr. Marshall, for the prosecution, said they would not ask for conviction on the count in the indictment for aggravated assault and battery.

Mr. Hampton opened the case briefly for the defense. It will be contended that the miners on the day of the disturbance were marching in procession, as was their custom, and visited Mr. O'Neill's works, not for any violent purpose, but to hold a conference with the miners in his employ, and that the violence which resulted was brought about by threats and demonstration made, such as the display of fire-arms, in response to the request for a consultation with Mr. O'Neill's diggers. Mr. Hampton was proceeding to argue to the jury the law bearing on the case, when he was interrupted by Judge Stowe, who stated it was the province of the Court to give the law to the jury. A colloquy ensued, Mr. Hampton insisting upon his right as an attorney to state his understanding of the law, and Judge Stowe, with equal earnestness, demanding that he should argue upon the law to the court, and upon the facts to the jury. In reply to an observation as to the improper tendency of such a course of argument as had been pursued, Mr. Hampton said his experience led him to believe differently. Counsel on one side would agree the law to be so and so, and opposing counsel argue the contrary, so that the jury, placing no confidence in either, would take the law to be as laid down by the court.

The case will be resumed on Monday morning.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

G. J. Young and J. P. Young vs. J. P. White. Sci. fa. on mechanics lien. Verdict for plaintiff.

John Schmidt vs. Joseph Baer. Action to recover for work and labor done. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $17.50.

Americus W. Shaffer vs. Alex. H. Burns, administrator of Alex. Burns, dec'd. Appeal from judgment of an Alderman. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $65.50, subject to opinion of the Court upon a question of law reserved.

Mrs. General Robinson.

I observed a few days since in the daily papers resolutions passed by the Ladies' Relief Society of Allegheny, in which they gave expression to the great loss they had experienced on the death of Mrs. General Robinson, and bearing testimony to her high Christian character.

She was, indeed, a live Christian! Never satisfied but when she was doing good, and was especially and constantly engaged in providing for the wants of the poor and the friendless. Charity, sympathy with distress and desire to afford relief were most marked principles and sentiments with her, yet there was no sickly sentimentality.

She was as remarkable for cool, sound judgment and discretion as for any other trait of character, and this made her so important and highly valued a member in all the institutions and societies with which she was connected, and in the many important committees with which she was so often called upon to act.

To whom did all look, in such places and under such circumstances, for sound counsel and prompt, decisive action, so much as to the late Mrs. Robinson?

I do not believe the removal of any other individual could leave such a void in the various spheres and positions where ladies in their associate capacity are called to act, as has the death of this most noble and revered woman.

Many a poor and feeble one will realize that they have lost their best earthly friend—

God had blessed her with this world's goods, and she used them freely and constantly in seeking to glorify Him, and provide for the poor and the orphans.

Christ's cause—His Church, was very dear to her heart, and she was ever willing to aid by the means God had given her in building up His cause and spreading His truth throughout the earth. One of the many of her charitable and christian acts, during the last days of her life, was to donate the very liberal sum of four thousand dollars to the North Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, thus voluntarily carrying out a known, but unaccomplished design of her beloved husband, who, but a very little while preceded her to the presence of Him she loved and served on earth, and from whose lips, she has now received in heaven the welcome plaudit, "well done! thou good and faithful servant enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." D.

Assaulted at a Picnic.

John Bush alleges that while attending a picnic at Linden Grove, on the 22d of June, he was assaulted and abused by a crowd of men. Fearing a repetition of the assault, he placed himself under the protection of two policemen who were on the grounds; but notwithstanding all the care of these watchful guardians of the law, he was again attacked and severely beaten. It was the last straw that broke the camel's back, and this last attack nearly did a similar work for his neck. He made information against his assailants, before Alderman Mullen, charging them with assault and battery. Two of the parties, Andrew Armstrong and —— McCormick were arrested and held for a hearing. The others are still at large.

In Trouble.

Thursday night a difficulty occurred on Fifth street, and officers Glynn and Kelly made several arrests, among whom was William Shore, who was acting in a very disorderly manner. They started with him to the watch house when William Richardson interfered and attempted to rescue Shore from the police, and in the attempt struck one of the officers. He was arrested and taken to the lock-up and confined until morning, when he was fined $25 for disorderly conduct. Officer Kelly made an information charging him with assault and battery and attempting to rescue a prisoner. After a hearing he was held to bail for his appearance at court.

The Original "Diamond Front" Grocery of McBride & George, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, continues to receive a full share of the public patronage. The proprietors have ever made it a rule to keep constantly on hand a large and judiciously selected stock of groceries and provisions, and their patrons can at all times depend on procuring the very best the market affords at most reasonable prices. No where else in the two cities can be found a larger or fresher stock of pure and unadulterated teas, coffees, spices, general groceries and provisions. Dealers who buy to sell again, as well as retail patrons, will consult their own interests by favoring the original Diamond Front Grocery with a purchasing visit.

Pure Teas, Pure Coffees, unadulterated Spices, Table Sauces and Condiments, Canned and Dried Fruits, Toilet Soaps, Syrups, Molasses and general Groceries, in splendid variety at Robinson's old established Tea Mart, No. 20 Fifth street.

Great Closing Out Sale—Where to Purchase Dry Goods, &c., at Prices Away Down Below Cost.

Our readers, we feel, should be made acquainted with the fact that there is now going forward in the city a sale at which the best bargains ever afforded in this city are given. We refer to the grand clearance sale of general dry goods now being held at the auction salesrooms of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Masonic Hall, 55 and 57 Fifth street. This firm have been long engaged in this branch of business in connection with the other of general auctioneering, but have concluded to withdraw entirely from it, and hence the present special sale. The stock of dry goods which they have now in store, and which is to undergo the greatest possible sacrifice imaginable, is very full and complete, embracing dress goods of all descriptions, Balmoral skirts, sun shades, parasols, toilet quilts and spreads, table and Irish linens, checks, tickings, oil cloths and linen table covers, flannels, cassimeres, cloths, gents' clothing, linen coats, shirts, ladies' straw goods, and numerous other lines of goods too tedious to mention. The firm purchased all their large stock at the heavy auction, bankrupt and Sheriff's sales in the east, and now as they have concluded positively and peremptorily to close out the entire stock to quit that department, the reader can safely rely on receiving such unparalleled bargains as never before prevailed in this city. In order to afford proper accommodation to the army of purchasers who will visit the store during the week to procure the bona fide bargains offered, the usual furniture auction sales will be suspended this week, and day and evening will be devoted to the accomplishment of the one grand purpose of completely closing out every item of the finely selected stock. While the retail patrons will be favored with such great inducements, dealers and all who buy to sell again will be afforded rare opportunities to buy themselves rich in all sincerity and truth. Such unexampled chances for the purchase of seasonable and good goods, have never before been offered in this city.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

Perhaps there is not so much adulteration in the brandies, gins, rums and whiskies dealt in this progressive day as in what is foisted upon the market by irresponsible dealers as pure China and Japan teas. Housekeepers cannot be too careful as to where they purchase. The old reliable tea mart, No. 20 Fifth street, has long sustained a high reputation for the purity and flavor of the teas sold there, and everybody can defend on receiving just what they desire, pure, unadulterated, fine flavored fresh teas at very reasonable prices. One trial is all that is asked to secure your patronage, as satisfaction is guaranteed and must follow.

The Institution of the times is the wonderful American Combination Button Hole Sewing Machine, it does all kinds and variety of sewing, hemming, felling, gathering, sewing on, and in fact everything known to be done on any first class machine in the world. Also makes the most perfect button and eylet holes that can be made. Chas. C. Baisley is the agent, corner of Fifth and Market streets, over Richardson & Co.'s jewelry store.

GARDNER & STEWART.

The word Continental is a very familiar one, and always reminds one of knee breeches and surtouts, unless it is coupled with saloon, in which case the smiling face of Holtzheimer and his well-laden tables loom up in the imagination of all who have an appreciation of the good things to be found at the Continental saloon, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice.

Lots! Lots! Lots!—At auction fifty building lots in Mr. Dihm's plan of lots on the Perrysville road, near the observatory, head of Federal street, Allegheny, are to be sold by A. Leggate, auctioneer, on Tuesday next, at three o'clock. They are good lots, and worthy the attention of all who desire to secure a home. See advertisement in fifth page.

Holtzheimer's Continental Saloon, for ladies and gentlemen, is the resort of epicures. His tables are always filled with the luxuries of the season, and a competent corps of cooks and attendants are always on hand who take pride and pleasure in waiting on customers. The Continental is one door below the Postoffice on Fifth street.

At W. W. Moorhead's fashionable retail trimming and notion house, No. 81 Market street, the ladies will find a superb stock of new novelties in the way of laces, insertings, edgings, embroideries and lace goods. Prices very reasonable.

Gentlemen will be delighted with the very elegant and seasonable stock of furnishing goods just received at W. W. Moorhead's trimming and notion house, No. 81 Market street.

Sweetmeats and general confectionery in admirable selection and assortment can no where else better be obtained than at P. H. McGuire's, No. 105 Fifth street.

Pic Nic gloves, fans and light goods generally, at W. W. Moorhead's popular and fashionable retail trimming and notion house, No. 81 Market street.

Delicious soda water, drawn from freezing marble fountains, constantly on draught at P. H. McGuire's, No. 105 Fifth street.

Ball Clubs bear in mind the inducements offered by Pittock.

Noiseless Sewing Machines.

We earnestly advise our readers to call and examine Singer's New Noiseless Sewing Machine as the latest and most perfect in the market. It is remarkable for its quietness, speed, lightness in running, ease of management, and simplicity of construction.

It is entirely different from Singer's old machine. The tension is self-adjusting, and the feed is so perfect that the operator does not have to hold the work stretched to prevent puckering, even when sewing the finest Swiss or Nainsook.

The hammer is such a novel of perfection that it will make any width of hem, and fell in the most beautiful manner with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine. All the attachments of this machine are the latest and most perfect. Do not be influenced by agents of rival machines, who, by misrepresentations, try to prevent customers from examining this machine, knowing their own will not stand comparison. Straw & Morton, corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, will take pleasure in showing the machines to all who may call. Prices and terms to suit everybody.

Try All—Select the Best.

Nothing proves the real merit of an invention like experience. The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine has been the leading family machine for over ten years. It has not been the subject of a single complaint. While this Company has given to the public the best fruits of inventive genius, it has guarded it from a multitude of traps. Attachments have been added for various purposes, as hemming, binding, braiding, cording, &c., but it has been kept free of all useless complications. Simplicity of parts, and adaptation to the widest range of work, has been the constant aim. Handsome, light, durable, easily operated and never gets out of order. Do not take anything for granted, but examine for yourself and select only the best. The agents, Messrs. Sumner & Co., 27 Fifth street, invite all to inspect their machines, and to those who wish to try them they give the most liberal and reasonable terms.

The Strawberry season is rapidly drawing to a close and our readers who have not yet visited the first class rooms of P. H. McGuire, No. 105 Fifth street, to partake of the delicious luxury served with tempting ice cream, should at once do so. No where else in the city will parties receive more attention and courteous treatment. Ladies can visit this saloon for ice cream, strawberries, luncheon or meals unaccompanied by gentlemen.

Pumps and Gas Fixtures.—Mr. T. T. Ewens, plumbler, gas and steam fitter, at No. 165 Wood street, has on hand at his establishment an extensive assortment of pumps of the most improved patterns, suitable for the country trade, and the largest and best assorted stock of gas fixtures to be found in the city. We cheerfully commend both him and his establishment to our readers.

Gas and Steam Fitting.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the establishment of Mr. Thos. T. Ewens, 165 Wood street, near Sixth. Mr. Ewens is engaged in the plumbing, gas and steam fitting business, and being a practical mechanic superintends all work entrusted to the establishment. Special attention given to work in the country.

To Housekeepers.—As the time of year has arrived for putting up fruit, we advise you to go to Boyts & Ogden, No. 23 Wood street, and buy your fruit preservers. They sell all the best patents, and all kinds of glass jars for fruit. Give them a call and you will find the best as well as the cheapest at this house. Remember, No. 23 Wood street.

Holtzheimer is proprietor of the Continental Dining Saloon, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice. It is one of the most popular establishments of its character in the city, and receives a full share of public patronage. The rooms are always clean, cool and comfortable, and the tables supplied with the best the market affords.

The Continental.—Holtzheimer's Continental Saloon, Fifth street, one door west of the Postoffice, is one of the best dining saloons in the city. Mr. H. has an extensive experience as a caterer, and gives the matter his entire attention, and the result is that his extensive and comfortable rooms are filled with customers at all times.

The Plot of Seventy-Five, or the Hour of Peril—a local novel of great interest—will be commenced in the Leader of to-morrow.

Mr. P. H. M'Guire's elegantly furnished and handsomely situated private dining rooms should be generally known by those of our citizens who take meals during business hours in the city. Clean tables, good attendance and all the substantials and delicacies of the market can at all times be depended upon.

The best qualities of teas, coffees, spices, dried fruit and groceries will be found at Robinson's Tea Mart, No. 20 Fifth street, at reasonable prices. "Quick sales and small pofits" is the motto at this establishment, which, perhaps, accounts for the large share of patronage its receives.

The Library of a deceased Roman Catholic clergyman in Ireland, embracing French and Latin sermon books and rare English publications. Call and see them at Col. J. D. Egan's well-known and popular news and library depot, Sixth street, near Smithfield.

Stationery, legal cap and envelopes, cap, letter and commercial note paper, ladies' note, billet and mourning paper and envelopes. Log books in great variety; pens, penknives and ink, at Col. J. D. Egan's, Sixth street, near Smithfield.

See the Leader to-morrow morning. It appears in a new and elegant dress.

The Boston Post

Of a recent date, contains the following: In regard to expression, delicate shading, variety of accentuation, the instruments of Messrs. Steinway have over those of Messrs. Chickering an advantage which cannot be contested. The blow of the hammer is heard much less, and the pianist feels under his hands an action pliant and easy, which permits him at will to be powerful or light, vehement and graceful. These pianos are at the same time the instrument of the virtuoso who wishes to astonish by the eclat of his execution, and of the artist who applies his talent to the music of thought and sentiment, bequeathed to us by the illustrious masters; in one word they are at the same time the pianos for the concert-room and the parlor, possessing an unexceptional senority.—Fetis, Chm., Music Com., Paris Exposition.

A few gloriously toned pianos of the Steinway make have just been opened at 122 Wood street, the Steinway headquarters.

War or no War, the ladies cannot neglect their beauty. Gentleness and kindness are excellent things in their way, but it takes beauty to inspire heroism. Just now presents are "all the go." Lovers going to the war send mementoes to their sweethearts which is of course a very proper thing.

The difficulty is that the right kind are not chosen, at least so I have been told lately by several pretty girls, who honor me with their confidence. One has promised to give me one of her sweetest kisses if I will only hint to stupid young men, that good things for the toilet are always in season, such as Joseph Burnett & Co.'s Cocoaine, Florimel, Kalliston and Oriental Tooth Wash; the first being the best preparation for the hair extant; the second the most delightful perfume, the third the most effectual Cosmetic, and the fourth the most reliable preserver and beautifier of the teeth and gums. Some will say that even the pretty ones ought to be thinking of something else just now, yet where is the use of being lugubrious? What if there be some fighting? All will not be killed. There will be quite enough left to admire the beautiful daughters of Eve; aye and the latter will deserve it as much as ever.—Sear's Review. TTSW

A fact now established, that notwithstanding the precedence hitherto accorded to French perfumes, to-day Woodworth's "Flor del Santo," being the most delicate and durable, out-rivals them all. TTS.F.
